HUERTA DISAPPEARS FOR A SHORT TIME

Mexico City, Dec. 1.—Investigation here failed to discover the whereabouts of Provisional President Huerta.

Mexico City, Dec. 1.—Provisional President Huerta is reported to have left the Federal capitol secretly yesterday morning for Vera Cruz, travelling over the Inter-oceanic railway.

Reports from railway officials claim to know of his departure at 4 o'clock on a special train.

The Mexican Foreign Minister, Moseno, now at Vera Cruz, is said to have some connection with Huerta's plan to leave.

VILLA'S FOLLOWERS FORCED TO MARCH

Juarez, December 1.—General Francisco Villa's 3,000 Rebel soldiers are moving south to attack Chihuahua, 225 miles south of here, and reports state they are now 63 miles from the border, being forced to detain by destroyed track.

They are preparing to march overland. Another train carrying 1000 troops is ready to leave here for the south.

General Villa will be joined before reaching Chihuahua City by Generals Chao and Juan Cortinas, who are advancing from Torreon. Unless intercepted Villa hopes to array 7000 men to attack the 5000 Federals in the capital.

far as the United States was concerned. His visitors believed that he had in mind the increased number of Constitutional victories and the rapidly diminishing zone of control of the Huerta regime.

William Bayard Hale who met with General Carranza and the Constitutionalists chiefs at Nogales, returned here today and will see the President late today or tomorrow.

Officially nothing was known at the White House concerning the visit of Quirido Moseno, Mexican Foreign Minister, to Vera Cruz. He has not conferred with John Lind, according to information here today.

The policy of the American Government continues to be one of waiting while the financial blockade weakens the resources of the Huerta regime and the Constitutionalists press forward the victorious campaign.

FEDERALS RECEPTIVE

Mexico City, Dec. 1.—The city of Torreon, which has long been held by the rebels, is about to be taken by the Federals, Gen. Velasco commanding, according to dispatches received by the War department.

Federal troops are reported within a few miles of the city. The military authorities say that re-occupation of Torreon will be a great blow to the revolutionists, as the city is the key to operations in four states.

LINGERIE AND LITANIES WON'T MIX, SAYS DIVINE.

Pittsburg, Dec. 1.—Rev. Dr. John McNaugher, president of the United Presbyterian Theological seminary, says lingerie and litanies won't mix. At the meeting of his class, composed exclusively of men, his sentiment was indorsed. "Ribbons, perfume and lingerie have no place in a men's Bible class," asserted Dr. McNaugher, who said admitting women to a men's meeting might be chivalric, but made study of Scripture difficult. He added that with a class composed solely of men it is possible to speak plainly on certain subjects.

Illinois Suffrage Leader, Noted Figure In National Convention

MRS. MEDILL MCCORMICK is one of the rich and prominent woman suffragists of the country. She, with several others of prominence, is given credit for the suffrage victory in Illinois, where the women won the partial ballot. She is one of the Chicago workers who "lobbied" the bill through. Mrs. McCormick, talented and wealthy, helped win the most substantial suffrage victory of the year. She prepared to attend the national woman's suffrage convention at Washington, Nov. 28 to Dec. 5. Suffragists expect the greatest enthusiasm of the convention when Illinois night is observed.

MAYOR ASSUMES CHARGE OF POLICE

By Associated Press.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 1.—Mayor Wallace established headquarters at the police station today and said he would take personal charge of the police department until the strike of the Union teamsters and chauffeurs, which began at midnight last night, is settled.

He said he had 100 mounted police and 400 patrolmen and expected to be able to handle the situation without assistance from the state. In addition to extra squads of police, more than 250 citizens including some of the most prominent business men in Indianapolis were sworn in as special reserve police.

Disorder but no serious rioting resulted today among the striking teamsters and chauffeurs.

Many wagons on the streets were stopped. T. J. Ferrill, president of the Union, declared all would be stopped by night. Many arrests have been made, and the police used their clubs freely in keeping the crowd moving.

Four girls, garment workers, were included in the number of arrests. They surrounded a laundry wagon and stopped it until the police arrived. They were released on small bonds. All men arrested were held under $1000 bond.

ADJOURNMENT TAKEN

By Associated Press.

The adjournment, it is claimed, was made at the request of the Washington authorities.

MINISTERS AGREE TO COUNTY-WIDE REVIVAL

A ministerial meeting, attended by nearly every minister in the county, was held at the Y. M. C. A. Monday morning, and a resolution for a county-wide simultaneous evangelistic campaign, was offered by Rev. F. M. Moore, of Bloomington and unanimously adopted.

The resolution carried with it the agreement to enter into the campaign and co-operate with the executive committee in the plan proposed, as far as possible.

As indicated by the vote, all were heartily in favor of the movement, and believed that one of the greatest revivals the county has ever witnessed, will be the result.

The simultaneous campaign opens on January 11th, and will be conducted in accordance with the general plan of the Executive committee.

Plans will be made, it is stated, for bringing several widely known speakers into the county to speak at various points during the revival period.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, A. W. West; vice president, Ray F. Zander; secretary and treasurer, Rev. Bowman Hostetler. Rev. Ross, Rev. Hostetler and Rev. Haincock were appointed a committee on program.

COUPLE ON TRIAL ON MURDER CHARGE

By Associated Press.

Mayfield, Ky., December 1.—More than 2000 persons heard Miss May Copeland, the pretty joint-defendant in the Turk-Copeland murder trial, tell her story of how she killed Hugh Atchison, her brother-in-law, at midnight, July 24th.

She stated that she and her sweetheart, Turk, drove to the Atchison home in a buggy, and that Turk remained in the buggy while she went into the house to secure some clothes she had left there.

She said Atchison lay upon the bed and when she entered the house he arose with an oath and threatened her, mentioning an assault he made upon her a week before.

Atchison started toward her, she said, and she turned and fled, and as she ran she pulled a revolver from her belt and fired over her shoulder, the ball striking Atchison in the heart. She had been in possession of the revolver one week, she said, and had carried the weapon in her belt.

By Associated Press.

Mayfield, Ky., December 1.—The prosecution today started the presentation of evidence accusing Miss May Copeland and her sweetheart, Lucian Turk, who are charged with the murder of Hugh Atchison, a wealthy farmer and brother-in-law.

Sam Ireland testified that a few weeks prior to the murder of Atchison, Turk said: "If Atchison keeps fooling with me, something is going to happen."

The defense claims Miss Copeland killed Atchison after he had mistreated her, while the prosecution insists that Turk fired the shot that ended the man's life.

PROGRAM FOR ADDING TO
U. S. NAVY IS OUTLINED

DID NOT FIND ANY FEDERALS

Secretary of the Navy Outlines Present Needs and Discusses "Naval Holiday"—Meeting of Representatives of Great Nations to be Called to Discuss Temporary Suspension of Battleship Building.

By Associated Press.
Washington, November 30.—Two dreadnaughts, eight destroyers and three submarines, is the yearly naval building program Secretary Daniels recommends in his first annual report to President Wilson. While such a program is somewhat less than recommended by the Navy General Board, principally because Mr. Daniels believes it is as heavy as the revenues of the government will permit, he believes it is a progressive one which will meet the demand to go forward in the continuation of an adequate and well proportioned navy.

Second only in interest to the Secretary's building program, is an endorsement of Winston Churchill's proposed "Naval Holiday" with a recommendation that the United States take the initiative and that President Wilson ask Congress to authorize him to invite all the powers to a conference to discuss the project.

Regarding his building program, Secretary Daniels says:
"The wise naval policy for the United States at this time is to find the golden mean. It can not wisely by itself reduce the construction of dreadnaughts or compete with other great powers in burdening the taxpayers to hasten the construction of a navy larger than our conditions demand. The estimates of the Navy Department show a decrease in the ordinary expenditures.

"We have now under construction six battleships of the largest and most approved type.

"With the authorization of two of the largest battleships ever constructed, before the close of the present administration, the United States will have enough ships to have always a creditable and capable fleet in both the Pacific and the Atlantic oceans. These, together with the smaller ships under construction, will make the American Navy one of strength and power ready for the protection of American shores and American interests. A steady building program of advancement from year to year will be necessary to give us an 'adequate navy,' the goal of American needs and desires.

"If the present Congress authorizes the two dreadnaughts, 8 destroyers, and 3 submarines recommended the country will have a 'well-proportioned' Navy, and future additions can be made year by year, to add to the effectiveness of the fleet or fleets. Those who bid us stand still will not approve this conservative program. Those who wish to hasten more rapidly in construction will not give it their approval. It has been recommended, after mature consideration, as a middle course of wisdom.

"It is a condition and not a theory that confronts us. The revenues of the country do not permit as large an expansion in rival building as the department might desire to enter upon at this time. In its recommendations it has kept in view the probable revenues and other demands and placed the new construction at the very lowest program that could meet the needs of the country or carry out the pledges made to the voters"

In endorsing a naval holiday, the Secretary says:
"The growing cost of dreadnaughts, of powder, and of everything that makes an efficient Navy gives reason for pause. This heavy expense commands national and international consideration. The naval appropriation has doubled in 13 years and yet this country has not joined the expensive competition and race for over-large navies to the same extent as have some other great nations. Ten years ago our largest battleship cost $5,382,000. The next dreadnaught will cost $14,344,000. When is this accelerating expenditure to be reduced?"

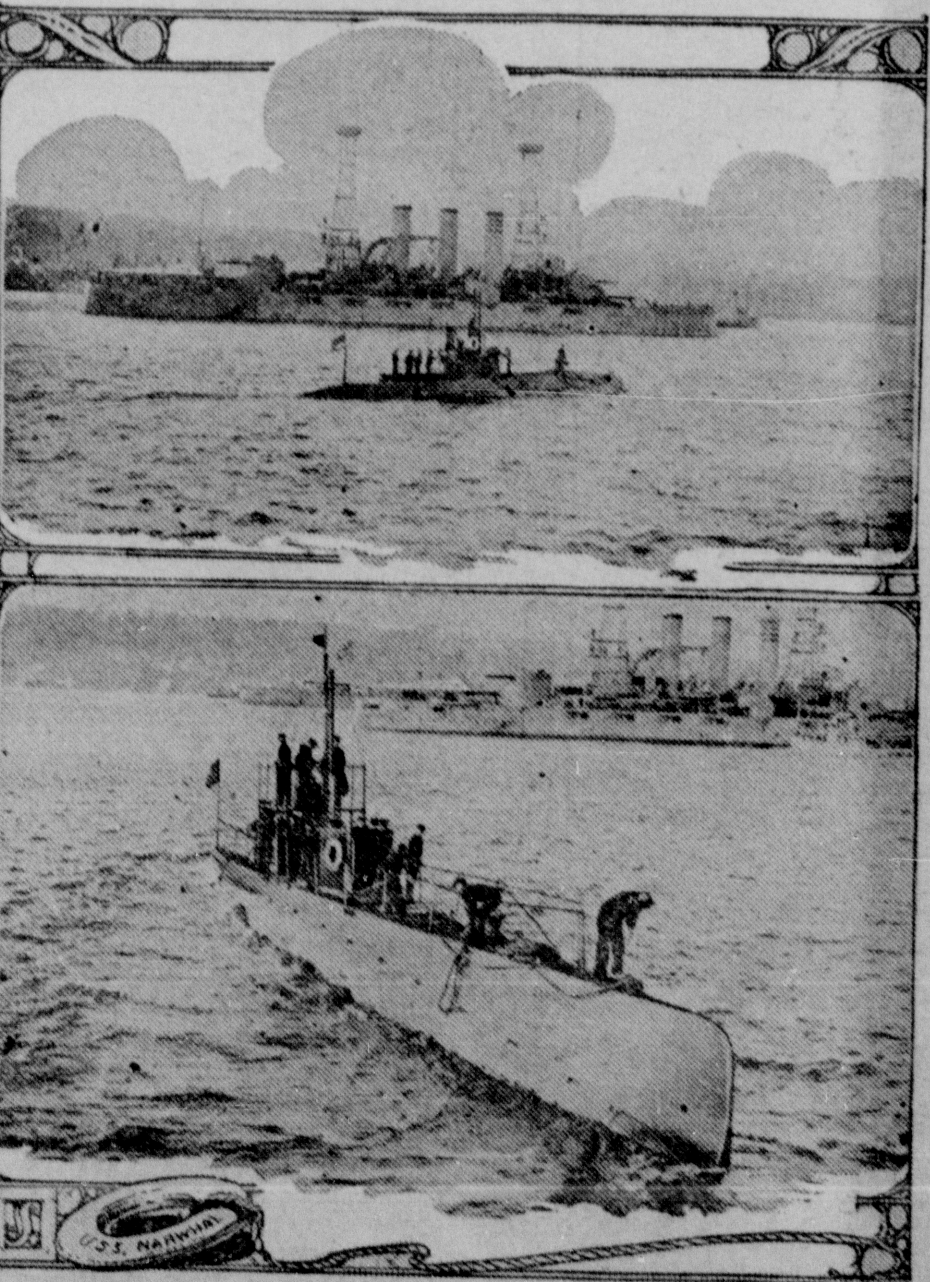

"Naval programs, announced by the nations already having the largest navies, and the entrance into the building of dreadnaughts by nations which have not hitherto burdened their people with the expense of large battleships, indicates that the end is not yet. No single nation, with large interests, can safely take a vacation in the building of battleships.

"The suggestion of a vacation for one year in battleship building has met with hearty approval and I venture the earnest hope that this will bear fruit in a well-considered plan by navy-building nations not to let the unnecessary competition go to further lengths. It is manifestly not possible for the proposed cessation in battleship construction to be declared at once. It is not a vacation we need, but a permanent policy to guard against extravagant and needless expansions. Any vacation proposed would, of course, take into account the conditions in Government navy yards and in private establishments where battleships are built under contract. The whole force is at present concentrated in building ships for which material has been purchased. Time should be given for shipbuilders to obtain commercial orders so as not to ask shipbuilders to incur loss.

"I venture to recommend that the war and navy officials and other representatives of all the nations be invited to hold a conference to discuss whether they can not agree upon a plan for lessening the cost of preparation for war. It is recognized that the desired end of competitive building, carried on under whip and spur, could not be effective without the agreement between great nations.

Uncle Sam's Submarine Flotilla
To Guard Pacific End of Canal

Photos by American Press Association.

UNCLE SAM has selected a submarine flotilla as the initial standing naval defense of the Pacific entrance of the Panama canal. This flotilla consists of the C-1, C-2, C-3, C-4, and C-5. The boats were ordered to Colon, the Atlantic entrance of the canal, and will go through the "big ditch" as soon as it is navigable in Culebra cut. They will be permanently stationed at the Pacific entrance, of course being augmented by the Pacific fleet in case of sudden need. The Atlantic entrance of the canal will be guarded from Guantanamo, the naval base in Cuba.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 1.—Pancho Villa's rebel army has not encountered any federal soldiers as far south as it has gone, and the vanguard reached Villa Ahumada, 83 miles south of Juarez. There the rebel army will wait for Villa to come and join it before moving farther. Villa loaded his artillery and another large lot of food supplies and said that he expected to move south tomorrow. He says 2,500 men with 16 rapid-fire guns have already gone. From Villa Ahumada he may march overland to Chihuahua, as he fears the federals have planted mines beneath the railroad. He will take all the artillery with him when he goes. Manuel Escudero, minister of foreign relations in the Carranza cabinet, reached El Paso for a conference with Villa.

General Villa declared that the movement southward against Chihuahua is the real beginning of the march to Mexico City. "We have sufficient soldiers to drive every federal before us," he said, "and it will be no trouble to take the city of Chihuahua. We already hold Torreon, and the march south on Chihuahua will be easy. The Constitutionalists now hold every border port on the United States line except Eagle Pass and Laredo."

Villa has at least 5,000 rebel soldiers with him, at Juarez or moving south, while Generals Chao and Contreras, other rebel commanders, have at least 1,500 near Chihuahua. The federals have not more than 4,000 at Chihuahua.

The only doubt in the minds of Americans of the success of the Constitutionalists' cause is the attitude of General Villa. At present he is apparently fighting loyally for and with the Carranzans, but Villa is not a man who by nature is subservient to other men, and Americans who have watched his wonderful rise do not believe that Villa will be found taking second place to Carranza for any length of time.

DESTROY CITY

Mexico City, Dec. 1.—The federal gunboats Tampico and Guerrero bombarded the port of Altata, in the state of Sinaloa, again and destroyed the entire city, not a building being left intact. The rebel force, which had remained in the city throughout the heavy bombardment of the previous days, found the place untenable and fled for the interior. The gunboats thereupon left for Mazatlan, to join in a land and sea attack on that port, which is occupied by a large rebel force. Generals Rasgado and Garcia are to lead the attack from the land side.

Consular dispatches from Mazatlan say that the rebels are protecting property and preserving order, and that the few foreigners who remained there after the occupation of the city by the insurgents are in no danger.

CREDIT RUINED

Washington, Dec. 1.—The administration is convinced that the Mexican situation is slowly but surely adjusting itself. The practical destruction of the credit of the Huerta administration, coupled with the uninterrupted series of military successes by the Constitutional forces, is doing the work, according to officials. The promised crumbling of the Huerta dynasty, which the president has indicated repeatedly as the safe and certain cure for Mexican troubles, still goes on.

SALOONISTS AID DRYS

Petitions have been circulated and the necessary number of signatures has been secured to ask for an election. An election will be held at the same time in Sandy township, in which Mineral City is located.

CORN BOYS LEAVE

Columbus, O., Dec. 1.—The 1,600 champion corn-raising boys and girls of Ohio start today to Washington for a week's outing as a prize trip for their work. At Pittsburgh they will be the guests of the chamber of commerce. Governor Tener will welcome them at Harrisburg. In Washington the girls and boys will call on President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan.

ITALY INTERESTED IN CANAL OPENING

By Associated Press.

Rome, Dec. 1.—Italy is following with the greatest interest everything connected with the Panama Canal, which is considered a work worthy of the ancient Romans. The opening of the Canal will affect Italy, above all, in its principal exportation, namely, emigrants. In Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia, and Chili, new fields of activity will be found for them and, furthermore, the emigration to the western coast of Mexico, the United States and Canada will be increased. Already several Italian lines are preparing lines of navigation. Also, it is calculated that once the means of transportation is facilitated, Italian exports to South America will be at least doubled, while those for the western coast of Mexico, the United States and Canada will increase greatly.

When the Suez Canal was finished, Italian emigration was very limited and did not reach 100,000 a year, but between 1876 and 1886 the annual average had become 135,000. Between 1886 and 1900 that number was doubled, and from 1900 it has reached an average of 600,000, while in 1906, the highest year on record, was doubled, and from 1900 it has they were 708,669, and this year they may surpass in numbers those of 1906.

Long Drawn Out

Time was when the sessions of Congress attracted almost universal attention throughout the land. The convening of the legislative body of the nation was an event which was looked forward to with great interest by the people generally.

That was the time when the sessions of Congress were not so long drawn out as to constitute almost one continuous session as at present.

Congress no longer attracts the attention of the people as it once did because they have grown to look upon these sessions of the law-making body as an every-day occurrence. Congress in session is no longer a novelty. It is exceedingly of the ordinary, every-day, regular occurrences.

The people are tired of Congress and if that body would re-establish itself in popular esteem it would do well to hurry along, conclude its work and quit.

It is quite likely that the members of Congress are as tired of the continuous sessions as the people and would welcome an end to the long drawn out session, but the responsibility for existing conditions rests mainly with the legislators themselves. They are fully cognizant of the desires of the people in the way of legislation, but those desires do not meet with the entire approval of some congressmen, notwithstanding the fact that they stand pledged to enact the very legislation which they are now stalling on. It is the desire of some members of Congress openly opposed to the legislative program which the people prepared, who are determined to bring about the enactment of another code of laws, supplemented by those who fear they cannot read correctly the signs of the times, that is causing the delay.

The present Congress has lost all interest for the people and is fast becoming actually unpopular by the dilly-dallying methods employed.

There is no reason why Congress cannot act finally and quit. Every Congressman should favor the legislative program of the administration or else show the courage to openly oppose it, and state his reasons for his opposition.

Then the present session of Congress could be brought to an end and that is what the nation wants and is beginning to demand.

Official Permission For Rate Advance Would Restore Confidence In Roads

By HOWARD ELLIOTT, President of the New Haven Railroad

A SHORT ROUTE TO THE RESTORATION OF PUBLIC CONFIDENCE IN THE RAILROADS OF THE COUNTRY WOULD BE MADE BY A POSITIVE ANNOUNCEMENT BY FEDERAL AND STATE COMMISSIONS THAT RATES MIGHT BE ADVANCED.

To have a safe, adequate and smooth running transportation machine in New England is just as important to her future growth as to have adequate banking facilities, adequate commercial organizations and a sensible, sane and honest public opinion that will be reflected in a government that will not be swayed by the whims, prejudice or fads of the moment.

If we are to continue to have privately owned railroads supervised and regulated by governmental authority and if we are to avoid ownership by the government the OWNERS AND USERS OF THE RAILROADS MUST ALL WORK TOGETHER.

The policy of the government, national and state, during the last twenty-five years seems to have been to decide rate questions in the great majority of cases in such a way that RATES WERE RARELY ADVANCED AND GENERALLY WERE REDUCED and to introduce rules, regulations and methods that increased expenses. I want to make a plea that, coupled with restraint and control, there should be protection to the owners of the securities.

The commissions, both state and national, naturally feel the great pressure of the millions of users of the railroads for reduced rates and increased facilities. But, if the rates continue to decline or even remain on the present level and if expenses are increased by higher wages and cost of materials and by the introduction of different appliances and facilities more rapidly than the roads can obtain money, then there is but one result for some of the railroads of the United States, and that is BANKRUPTCY. This will naturally be preceded by a desperate effort on the part of the management to postpone that evil day as long as possible by STOPPING EVERY IMPROVEMENT AND BETTERMENT THAT CAN BE STOPPED.

Poetry For Today

LOVE AND FAITH.
Lo, if a man magnanimous and tender,
Lo, if a woman, desperate and true,
Make their irrevocable sweet surrender,
Show to each other what the Lord can do—
Each, as I know, a helping and a healing,
Each to the other strangely a surprise,
Heart to heart its mystery revealing,
Soul to the soul in melancholy eyes
Where wilt thou find a riving or a rending
Able to sever them in twain again?
God hath begun and God's shall be the ending,
Safe in his bosom and aloof from men.
Her thou mayst separate but shalt not sunder
Thou' thou distress her for a little while;
Rapt in a worship, ravished in a wonder,
Stayed on the steadfast promise of a smile.

New Picture of Huerta, Cause Of All the Trouble In Mexico

VICTORIANO HUERTA, as provisional president of Mexico, resisted for months the attempt of President Wilson to eliminate him from the Mexican political situation. Huerta was once head of the federal troops under President Madero. When he saw that the tide of battle last February was going against Madero he quickly shifted his allegiance to General Felix Diaz, leader of the successful rebels who stormed the national palace in Mexico City. Mexicans seem to be noted for the manner in which they thus easily off with the old and on with the new. Madero was slain. For awhile Huerta and Diaz were bosom friends. Then Diaz was sent to Japan and ordered arrested when he returned. He fled to Cuba. Huerta found plenty of trouble on his hands from Carranza, Villa and the other rebel leaders. In addition, the United States refused to recognize him. The general election for a president and vice president was a farce, and Huerta proclaimed himself dictator until another election could be held.

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS

The Oregon Public Ownership League has just organized and its principal object at present is to urge a law establishing a system of voting by mail. This objective won, municipal ownership of gas, lighting and telephone and street car lines, state insurance, an eight hour labor day, free water for every home up to 5000 gallons, a municipal free dental department, are some of the things for which the new organization will work.

Many postoffice names are queer enough to make one desire an explanation. A minister out in Kansas wrote to Washington, in behalf of the residents of a growing hamlet, asking for a postoffice. The request was favorably received, and he was asked to propose a name that would be acceptable. He replied that the people were not hard to please, so long as the name was peculiar. The post-office department took him at his word, and "Peculiar" is the name of the postoffice to this day.

Turks Island, located between Cuba and Haiti, is anticipating a record breaking business now that salt is admitted into the United States free of duty. Turks Island is one of the principal salt producers of the world. About 20 miles long and 5 miles wide the population numbers about 2500 and they produce more than 1,000,000 bushels of salt annually. Salt making is almost a monopoly on Turks Island for the business has been in the hands of one family for several generations. Salt is produced by pumping salt water into huge vats where the water is left to evaporate in the sun.

Lakewood, Ohio, a city of over 20,000 inhabitants has several unique distinctions. It has no place on any map; it does not contain a United States postoffice, and although located on several great trunk lines, has no railroad station. The population is rapidly increasing and the city has recently adopted a charter which embodies many of the latest framed features for municipal administration. This city is situated on the western boundary of Cleveland, on Lake Erie, and to a stranger passing from one to the other, there is nothing indicative of two distinct and separate municipalities.

A feature of the beautiful city park, Denver, Colorado, is the raising of native wild ducks. On an island in one of the lakes in the park at least 1000 wild ducks of various species are raised every year and allowed the freedom of the park. Each Thanksgiving two ducks are given to each park employee and whatever surplus remains is turned over to provide dinners for the poor of the city. Denver's parks have increased in value in 8 years over $3,000,000, and the city owns one acre for every 181 population.

The Authors' League, of which Theodore Roosevelt is president, last week prepared to test the copyright law by carrying it to the Supreme Court. The suit hangs on a recent decision of a court upholding the contention of a motion picture company that once a story is printed, the copyright becomes void and the story is public property, to be dramatized, produced as a motion picture or reprinted.

which means a little larger crop than last year. The prices received are somewhat above normal and it is said the orchards are in splendid shape and the fruit in excellent condition. More than $1,000,000 has been expended in the various districts for smudge pots, fuel tanks and other equipment against any cold weather. Of the total crop 5000 carloads are from the northern citrus section.

The majority of the Western cities have one mail carrier to each 1250 population, Eastern cities have one carrier to each 1000 population and as fast as the population grows the number of carriers are increased. Reports show that in many of the districts even this large force is entirely inadequate for the best service.

DEWEY SAYS BUILD

Washington, Dec. 1.—Admiral Dewey's views of the naval program the United States should adopt, if it is to guard its international policies in the family of nations, are transmitted to President Wilson with the report of Secretary Daniels. The admiral's views, which embody the recommendations of the navy general board, are that the fleet should consist of 43 battleship of the line before 1920, if possible, and that the building program should begin this year with four dreadnoughts, 16 destroyers, eight submarines and minor craft.

Some men fail to meet their obligations because they are headed the other way.

Better Than Calomel

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets. These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O. adv

GREENFIELD MAN ACCUSED OF EMBEZZLING $60,000

Homer Keefer, Trusted Employee of the Harps Manufacturing Concern, Alleged to Have Confessed Theft of Huge Sum, Transfers His Own Property Worth $35,000 and Leaves Yesterday for Parts Unknown—Theft Covered Space of Two Years, It Is Claimed.

A big sensation was sprung in Greenfield Sunday when it became known that Homer Keefer, aged 35 years, head bookkeeper and financial man for the J. A. Harps Manufacturing Company, was accused of the theft of amounts said to total $60,000, and that he had left Greenfield for parts unknown. The alleged embezzler is well known in this city where he had many friends.

Keefer, it is claimed, left Greenfield on the early morning train Sunday, and his whereabouts is unknown even to his wife, according to reports sent out from Greenfield.

The following story of the trouble has been sent out of Greenfield:

"Following Keefer's disappearance, it became known that a discrepancy amounting to almost $60,000 had been found yesterday in his accounts. A shortage was admitted by J. A. Harps, president of the company, but further than this, he would not discuss the case, saying he was not ready to make a public statement.

"When the alleged shortage was found, it is said that Mr. Keefer immediately made a confession and arranged to transfer his entire property, valued at approximately $35,000, to Mr. Harps to cover his peculations. It is also said that he then was given $75 with which to leave this city.

"Mrs. Keefer today declared that she did not know where her husband had gone. She will live with her mother, it is said.

"Business associates of Mr. Keefer were astounded at the report of the confession, as he had been a church worker and trusted employee of his firm for years. He conducted all the financial transactions for the company. Unfortunately speculation is said to have been the cause of the embezzlement, which, it is thought, extended over a period of two years.

"Mr. Keefer recently was acquitted of charges of using the mails to defraud in cases brought at Lynchburg, Va., against officials of the Harps-Sprengle Piano Company, of which he was secretary. Mr. Harps, who is also president of the People's National Bank and has large land holdings in South Carolina, may not prosecute the present case, it is reported."

I. O. O. F. SERVICES AT BAPTIST CHURCH

The downpour of rain last night prevented a number from attending the I. O. O. F. services at the First Baptist church Sunday night. Over a hundred Odd Fellows and Rebekahs braved the weather and heard a fine sermon, on "The Cultivation of Christian Conscience" from the pastor, Rev. A. W. West.

Rev. West gave the order cordial welcome and touched lightly upon fraternal relations.

Splendid music was a feature of the evening. The I. O. O. F. quartet, Dr. L. P. Howell, Messrs. Hicks, Burch and Ireland sang quartets and Dr. Howell, the solo, "O Perfect Day" very beautifully.

The choir sang an anthem under the direction of Miss Sheen, Miss Mabel Briggs, organist.

VISIT TOYLAND

LOCAL "Y" TEAM WHIPS FRANKFORT

In a fast and furious game, played in the presence of a fair-sized crowd at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday night, the Y. M. C. A. team defeated the visitors, piling up a score of 33 to 10 against them.

Both teams played with a vim that made the game one of deep interest and aroused considerable enthusiasm among the onlookers. One of the visitors became somewhat rough and started "slugging" but after he continued this for a short time he was ordered off the floor. However, he was returned when the captain of the visitors promised that no more of the "rough stuff" would be tolerated.

Both sides played a fast game but time after time the "Y" team scored with the visitors doing their utmost to prevent it.

Following are the points scored: Washington—Peterson, 3 fields; Sturgeon, 3 fields; Smith, 3 fields, and 9 fouls; Kier, 1 field; Baughn, 1 field.

Frankfort—McNeil, 1 field and 2 fouls; Trowell, 2 fields and 2 fouls.

Washington's line-up was: Phillips-Dresback, L. G.; Peterson, R. G.; Sturgeon, C.; Smith, L. F.; Kier-Baughn, R. F.

Another fast game will probably be played Saturday night of this week and within the next few weeks Frankfort will again play here—if she wants to.

BADLY BURNED BY GASOLINE

Late Saturday night while preparing to close the Glebehouse pool room and restaurant, Louie Gross was very painfully burned about the face and neck when gasoline from a leaking can ignited and blazed upward while he was bending over.

His face and neck were very painfully scorched and his eyebrows and hair were singed. The burns were not deep but exceedingly painful, and a physician was called to dress the wounds.

The exploding gasoline nearly reached his eyes before he could close them, and if it had the sight would probably have been destroyed or greatly impaired.

Few people can be really good on the installment plan.

PRESENTS GIFTS TO HIGH SCHOOL

Messrs. Glen McCoy and Ed Williams, of the O. S. U. student body, visited the local high school Monday morning and presented to the high school a large picture, showing a panoramic view of the three University buildings, Chemistry Hall, Hays Hall and the Armory, from the Fayette Club of Ohio State University.

Mr. McCoy made a happy little presentation speech, to which Prof. Probasco responded, expressing the high school's appreciation.

The picture is 4 feet long, handsomely framed, and will be quite an addition to the High School Art Gallery.

RECOB THREATENS FAYETTE CITIZENS

A resident of the Chaffin school house neighborhood, on the Jamestown pike, was at the sheriff's office Monday morning and stated that word had been received from Homer Recob, who is now on the U. S. battleship Franklin, stating that he would "get even" with certain ones in the above neighborhood for having "informed" on him.

The young man, who is still under indictment here for passing a forged check at the Washington Savings bank, claims that he will be discharged from the naval service on December 12th, and expects to return here.

As a result of his threats several of those acquainted with him are expecting trouble with him if he returns.

ANOTHER WIFE WANTS DIVORCE

Gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty are charges made against Ora Cartwright of this city, by his wife, Anna Cartwright, who, through Attorneys Rankin and Rankin, filed suit for divorce in the Probate court Saturday afternoon.

The couple were married in this city in January, 1904, and have two small children.

In her petition Mrs. Cartwright charges her husband with threatening to kill her with an axe and also with a butcher knife. She also charges him refusing her medical aid when ill. She asks divorce, alimony and other relief.

Some people would rather go broke than not go at all.

STRUNG UP TWENTY DAYS.

Prison Warden Uses Harsh Means to Stop Drug Smuggling.

Jefferson City, Mo.—Steve Willie, the St. Louis convict who underwent punishment "strung up" in the "rings" at the state penitentiary for twenty days for refusing to tell the source of whisky found in his possession, told Warden D. C. McClung before the hour when he was again to be strung up that he got the whisky from a Jackson county negro named Wright, who is serving seven years for robbery.

Wright, who was a trusty, was sent to the punishment cells and strung up in the "rings" to compel him to tell where he obtained the liquor. Willie was permitted to go back to his own cell.

During the past few months a large amount of heroin has been brought into the penitentiary, and Warden McClung believes a plant for smuggling drugs has been established.

MISS FLORENCE USTICK, SOCIETY EDITOR

A romance, which began at St. Augustine, Florida, and which had the next scenes laid near Chillicothe, was happily ended at Celina in the good old fashioned way by a marriage of extreme interest and beauty, solemnized Tuesday at the G. W. Struckman residence, east Livingston street.

The hero and heroine of the romance were Miss Margaret Blosser, Chillicothe, and Rolla W. Marchant, Washington C. H. The ceremony which united the happy lovers was read at 10:30, Tuesday morning by Dr. W. W. Lance and was witnessed by the bride's immediate family and the groom's best friend.

The bride was most becomingly gowned in an elegantly tailored blue tulle with crepe due chine bodice and hat ensuit. The ring ceremony was solemnized under the palms in the big living room, the family group of handsomely gowned and happy women making a most effective setting for the pretty scene.

Directly after the bridal benediction, the wedding breakfast was served in the dining room, the wedding colors, pink and white predominating in the huge basket of carnations, in the place cards and dainty favors, pink baskets with hearts at every place. The feast was in five courses, the cake, a big wedding bell, and the tea also in wedding bells.

After the breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Marchant left for Boston and New York and on their return, they will spend the winter at the home of the groom's parents near Washington C. H., during their absence in Cuba.

Celina, as well as Chillicothe and Washington C. H., was interested in the event, because the bride has spent much of her time here at the home of her sister, Mrs. Struckman and she has been very popular with a circle of intimate friends. The groom as does his bride enjoys both wealth and social prominence and their union promises one of great good fortune and happiness.—Celina Daily Standard.

The handsome Haines' home, on the creek road, was gaily enfeated Saturday night, when Mr. and Mrs. Haines entertained eighteen young people in honor of the birthday of their charming daughter, Miss Ivah.

The Haines hospitality is proverbial and the most cordial of welcomes and most delightful entertainment was given the merry party of young people, who drove out as a surprise to Miss Ivah.

The boys sprung an added surprise by taking out a stringed orchestra which accompanied them for a beautiful serenade, as a preliminary to the evening's pleasure. They were all in comical make-ups which added no little to the fun.

An elaborate two-course supper was served, carnations and greenery used in decoration.

Participating in the affair were Miss Helen Kale, of Lima; Miss Charlotte Davenport, of Dayton; Miss Clara Barr, of Greenfield; Miss Hilda Kyle, Louise and Mary Weaver, Alice Loofbourrow, Katharyn Mark, Urcel Porter, Mr. McNeill, of Lorain, Messrs. EXTENSION SCHOOL CLOSSES AND WAS SPLENDID SUCCESS

The Wayne Township Agricultural Extension School, held at Good Hope last week, closed Friday afternoon, and was a pronounced success, both in its splendid sessions and the interest aroused in the agricultural and home making courses. It was also a big success financially.

The feature of the week was the Thanksgiving dinner of Thursday, served by the Ladies Aid Society. The instructors, Misses Okey and Scott, assisted in the preparation of the three course dinner which vied with any Thanksgiving feast in the land. 160 were served.

Friday witnessed the banner attendance. Profs. Palmer and Hendricks judged cattle and horses, and of the home, dinner menus, how to serve, etc.

The officers who were so largely responsible for the success of the school were Pres. Orris Hegler; Secy. Jess Blackmore; Executive Committee, Chas. Groves, Ralph Braden, Harve Smalley; Home-Maker's Department, Pres. Mrs. S. E. Boggs; Executive Committee, Mrs. Almer Hegler, Mrs. Jess Blackmore, Mrs. Geo. Lough.

An independent Institute and corn show will be held at Good Hope in January.

Friday evening, Dec. 5, for a special presentation of Louisa Alcott's "Little Women" for the Buckeye Corn Special Party. This is one of the most wholesome and delightful plays upon the American stage today and its up-lifting influence will prove a fitting climax to the tour of entertainment.

REVISED OWEN BILL IN SENATE

Washington, Dec. 1.—A revised edition of the Owen currency bill bearing the stamp of approval of the senate Democratic caucus was submitted to the senate today. The Democratic leaders worked all of Sunday. The bill now provides that after the expenses of conducting the regional associations has been met and 6 per cent dividends paid to the shareholders, that a surplus of 40 per cent of the capital stock of the regional reserve associations shall be accumulated, following which any surplus profits are to be divided into two equal parts, one to go to the government as a franchise tax and the other to go into a fund to guarantee depositors in member banks that make up the regional reserve association. The number of members of the federal reserve board was fixed at seven. The number of regional banks will be left to the discretion of the federal reserve board, which may establish any number from eight to twelve.

Probably the most important work of the caucus was the adoption of an entirely new refunding plan to retire the 2 per cent bonds now held mostly as a basis for national bank notes. Secretary McAdoo offered some suggestions to the committee, which were adopted with slight modifications.

BUCKEYE SPECIAL ON THE PENNSY

Tonight between six and seven o'clock the Buckeye Corn Boys' Special over the Pennsylvania will pass through this city. The train, which is made up of the best coaches on the road, leaves Cincinnati at 5:00 o'clock and will stop here to pick up those who go from this country.

In connection with the final arrangements for the trip, the following notes will be of interest:

Reservation records show that the corn boys are good losers. To date more reservations have been recorded by the Treasurer for the boys who failed to win a free trip than for the more fortunate boys. This speaks well for the stuff of which our farm boys are made. A surprisingly large percent of adults are making reservations.

The Agricultural Commission has appealed to the Adjutant General of the Ohio National Guard to detail the service of a competent physician for each of the Buckeye Corn Special trains. Two O. N. G. physicians accompanied last year's party.

Arrangements have been consummated by the forwarding of $1200.00 on account by T. P. Riddle of Lima, the treasurer, for the reservation of the entire capacity of the Adelphi Thea-

WANTS NEGROES TO GO BACK TO AFRICA

Guthrie, Okla., Dec. 1.—Negroes of Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri in particular are making great preparations to receive Chief Albert Sam of the Akim tribe, Ashantee, West Africa, who is coming to Boley, Okla., a strictly negro town in the Creek Indian country, with an invitation from the chiefs of all the tribes in Ashantee for the negroes of America to locate in that country, cultivate farms and build cities. Chief Sam came in answer to queries sent to him several months ago by negroes of Oklahoma who have been contemplating removal to Africa.

GUARDING EVELYN

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 1.—The police department was requisitioned to detail a guard outside the house of the mother of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, in Squirrel Hill, to guard against expected annoyance or disorder. The manager of the Alvin theater fears that because of feeling in certain circles in this city against the appearance here of the actress, who was the wife of Harry Thaw, she may have some unpleasant experiences. The use of the Thaw name on the billboards stirred up disapproval. The disapproval, however is not being felt in the box office.

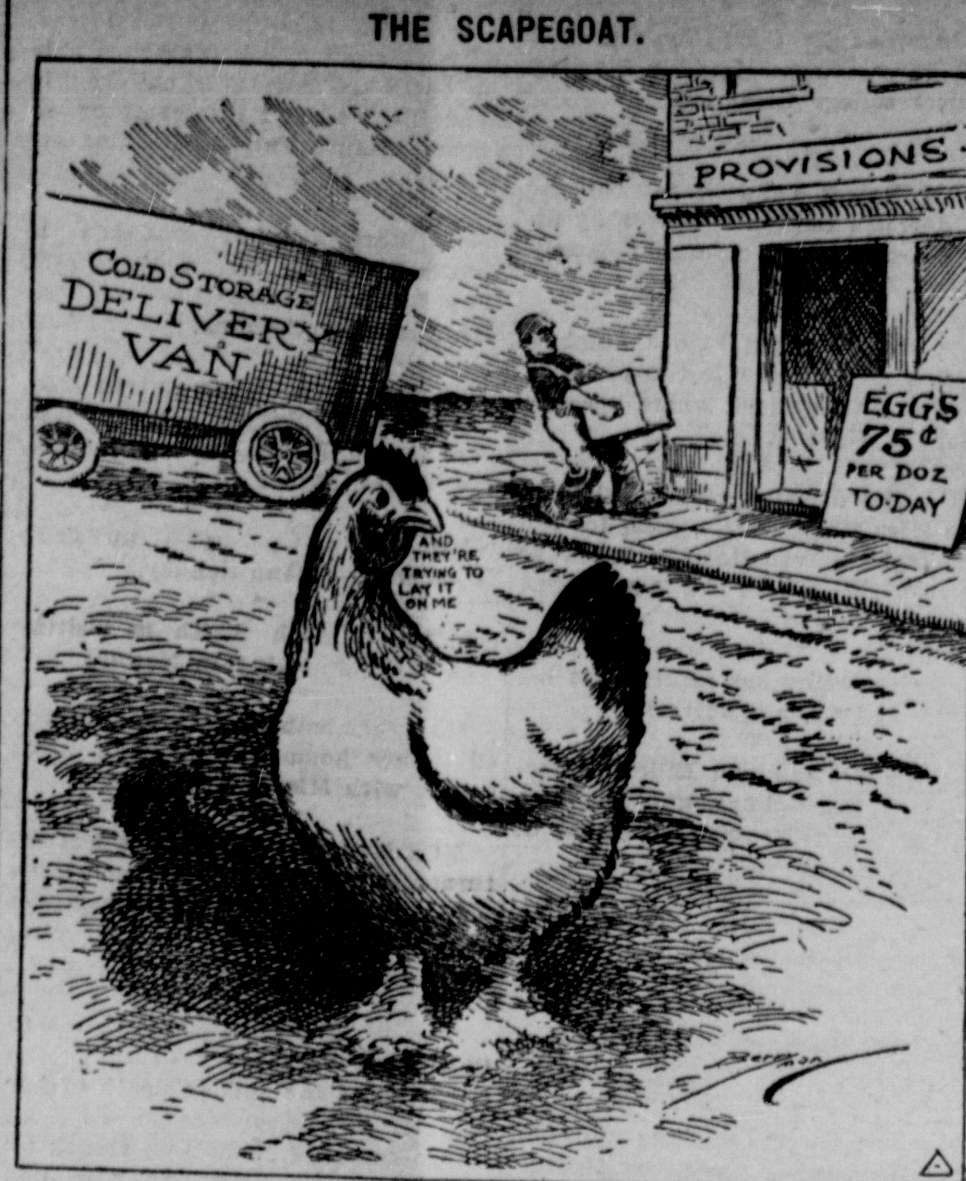

PRAISES SUNLIGHT

Cleveland, O., Dec. 1.—When scientists have discovered a process that will govern an equal distribution of sunlight, John D. Rockefeller thinks people will lead better lives. Mr. Rockefeller attended services at Euclid Baptist church, delaying departure in his motorcar to bask in the sunlight. "If scientists could solve the problem of equal distribution of sunlight it would raise the moral standard of men," he said. "Dull days breed unhappiness. Plenty of sunshine induces more persons to go to church and aids in making a contented community."

FOE OF AMERICANS WHO CONTROLS HUERTA'S FATE.

Mexico City, December 1.—General Blanquet holds President Huerta's fate in his own hands. He is minister of war and commander of the army, and the Mexican soldiers are friendly to him. Blanquet is said to have forced the resignation of Aldape, the minister of the interior. Blanquet is a warm opponent of the United States and believes that Americans should keep their hands off the Mexican imbroglio.

BUSY SESSION OPENS TODAY

Washington, Dec. 1.—Democratic leaders are in a serious frame of mind over the work of the regular session of the Sixty-third congress, which was called to order at noon today. They have entered upon a session in which party policy on many important questions will be fully developed for scrutiny by the people at the polls in the congressional elections of 1914. It would be a serious blow to the purposes of President Wilson to lose control of the lower branch of congress midway in his administration.

The Democratic party already has revised the tariff and it is now overhauling the banking and currency laws. In the near future it will disclose its intentions relative to the corporations, conservation and other questions that are regarded as of importance economically as well as politically. The leaders realize that if the party is to retain the ground that it gained in the elections of 1912 it must proceed with caution in the consideration of the rather ambitious legislative program that is rapidly framing. In next year's elections the administration will be judged by the new tariff and banking laws and such other legislation as may be enacted during the session.

The Democratic house "insurgents" made their fight on the tariff within the party caucus and then bowed to the will of the majority. The administration faced a revolt in the senate on banking and currency, with the result that one Democratic leader joined Republicans in presenting a bill as a substitute for the measure approved by the administration. The Republican and Progressive leaders are making ready for a lively session.

Conservation was the cause of much trouble to the Taft administration. Complaint has come from the south and other sections that the proposal made by Gifford Pinchot and his followers that power sites in navigable streams shall be taxed has halted progress in many states.

How to Keep Active

When Old Age Overtakes Us.

Mrs. John Widmayer of Jackson, Mich., says: "Although 69 years of age, and naturally because of my advanced age, in an enfeebled condition, I can truthfully say that Vinol has done wonders to keep me as active as I am. It is the best medicine to create strength that I ever saw. This spring I was very much run down and worn out but I took Vinol and soon felt stronger and able to work about the house. I can recommend Vinol as a very invigorating tonic."

Should the system get run down—digestive organs weak—the blood thin, and sluggish—take Vinol, which is a delicious combination of the medicinal—body-building properties of cods' livers, with the useless grease eliminated and tonic iron added. We regard Vinol as one of the greatest body-builders and strength creators in the world for aged people.

We wish every feeble old person in this vicinity would try Vinol on our agreement to return their money if it fails to give satisfaction. Blackmer & Tanquary.

P. S. If you have any skin trouble try Saxo Salve. We guarantee it. Adv.

Strong influences in the party are opposed to taxing water powers on the ground that additional burden will be laid on the consumers, and they will oppose the Pinchot policy accordingly.

The interest usually surrounding the opening of a new session of congress was absent from the events of today. While the first session of the Sixty-third congress ended at noon, and the second session was ushered in by formal proclamation of the vice president and the speaker of the house, the status of legislation was little different from what it was when senate and house adjourned Saturday afternoon.

President Wilson will appear before the two houses at 1 o'clock tomorrow to read his annual message at a joint session in the house chamber.

APPLE CULTIVATION

Columbus, O., Dec. 1.—Apple cultivation in Ohio is to be given a big boost. Plans for this are now being worked out by the state agricultural commission. A proposal to establish a bureau of horticulture is regarded with considerable favor by the commission. Such a bureau would not only be helpful to the apple industry, but also to the production of all other fruits indigenous to Ohio. Those interested in horticulture complain that the state has been neglectful of this part of the state's resources.

CLAIMS WILL FREE BECKER FOR $10,000

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 1.—The news from Paris that Sam Schepps, the most important witness in the trial of Lieutenant Charles Becker for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, is willing to make an affidavit which he says will free Becker, will have no effect on the hearing on Becker's appeal. Schepps, it is learned, wants $10,000 for the affidavit.

POLICEMAN ASSAULTED

Cleveland, O., Dec. 1.—With his wife fighting by his side at their own doorway, Policeman Albert Miller, while off duty, was attacked by a crowd of young men and so badly injured that he will probably die. He is in a hospital with a broken skull. Miller was called by a neighbor to stop the crowd from taking a freezer of ice cream from the back porch. When he returned home he was attacked.

GUARDING AGAINST CROUP.

The best safeguard against croup is a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound in the house. P. H. Ginn, Middleton, Ga., writes: "My children are very susceptible to croup, easily catch cold. I give them Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and in every instance they get prompt relief and are soon cured. We keep it at home and prevent croup." Blackmer & Tanquary. adv

FAVOR AMENDMENT TO CONSTITUTION

Washington, Dec. 1.—Suffragists from every quarter of the United States, to the number of more than 1,000, are assembled here for the week of convention of the National Woman Suffrage association, which began its sessions today. In the course of the proceedings there undoubtedly will be passed a resolution supporting the constitutional amendment now pending in the senate providing for an amendment to the federal constitution by which the right to the vote will be extended to women. The delegates point with pride to the fact that "votes for women," the extension of unlimited suffrage to all women, is now a fact in 11 of the 48 states. The delegates are also hopeful that in the president's message to congress some mention of the subject of woman suffrage will appear.

TRAFFIC TIED UP AT INDIANAPOLIS

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 1.—Union teamsters inaugurated a strike here today. Sunday the union voted unanimously to go out to enforce demands. The union, which includes the commercial chauffeurs, is one of the strongest in the city and has between 1,500 and 2,000 members.

A special dispensation for milk wagons, driven by union teamsters, was made at the meeting on the suggestion of Thomas J. Farrell, general organizer of the international brotherhood of teamsters, chauffeurs, stationary engineers and helpers of America. Drivers of hearses are exempt from the strike order. Farrell also announced there would be no interference with the mail or other government wagons or automobiles, or with the wagons or machines of the express companies. He said arrangements would be made for delivering supplies to hospitals, so that there would be no added suffering among the sick. Several employers have signed the agreement, but their men joined the strike to make it more effective.

Employers of teamsters who are members of the National Vehicle Owners' Protective association have practically decided to abandon all attempts to move their wagons. They say they will send their horses to the country and await developments.

The demands of the teamsters include a wage scale and changes of working conditions, which vary according to the kind of work done. The wage scale for drivers of horse wagons ranges from $13 to $18 a week and for chauffeurs from $14 to $18 a week. The hours of labor range from eight to 12 hours a day. The union did not demand a closed shop, but that there should be no discrimination against union men.

The police department, reorganized under the direction of Captain George V. Coffin, acting superintendent of police, has been making preparation for a week to handle the strike. About 250 specials have been sworn in.

SELLS RED SOX

New York, Dec. 1.—A big deal, involving the sale of half the stock in the Boston Red Sox for more than $200,000, was clinched when Joseph Lannin, proprietor of the Garden City hotel and a Long Island real estate man, obtained the shares held by President James R. McAleer, Secretary Robert McRoy and Former Manager Jake Stahl. The formal transfer of the stock will be effected on Dec. 10 and new officers of the club will be elected. General Charles H. Taylor and his son, John I. Taylor, who own the other half of the club's stock, will remain in baseball.

LATE DINNER BLAMED

Akron, O., Dec. 1.—Because his dinner was not ready when he arrived home, John Belisch, 42, a rubber worker, shot his wife three times and then, thinking her dead, placed the muzzle of the revolver in his mouth and pulled the trigger. The bullet came out of the back of his neck. Both are in the city hospital and expected to die.

Marines Awaiting Call to Arms On Warship In Mexican Waters

UNITED STATES marines were long in readiness to land in Mexico from the several battleships which patrolled the eastern and western coasts of the country. This picture shows marines in formation on one of the warships in Vera Cruz harbor. It was believed that this port was one of the keystones to the situation, as far as invasion was concerned. Ships with marines ready were also off Tampico and Tuxpan. This branch of the naval service bears a high standing and has bravely fulfilled many important details in troublous times in the past.

Those Who Arrive.

A New York capitalist said at a dinner in Boston that neither the prudent man nor the daring man made a success of life.

"The prudent gets nowhere," he declared. "The daring go to smash. It is those who mingle the two qualities, it is the daringly prudent, who arrive. In other words," concluded the capitalist, "the man who succeeds are those who run risks at a very slow walk."—Washington Star.

TAX COLLECTION STOPPED BOOKS MUDDLED IN GREENE

The Greene county commissioners have temporarily stopped the tax collection in that county as a result of some large mistake said to have been made as a result of the outgoing county auditor, Walter L. Dean, having his books in a very much muddled condition.

The commissioner took the action after they had made a close examination and discovered that the county stood liable to lose several hundreds and perhaps thousands of dollars as a result of errors made by Dean or his assistants.

The new treasurer started in to collect the taxes from the duplicate made up by Auditor Dean, and soon found so many errors that he turned the duplicates back for correction, and several clerks are now engaged in straightening out the tangle.

Three townships checked up showed $43,000 worth of property in one township that had not been placed upon the duplicate; $34,700 in another township, and $37,170 in the third. One property was also listed twice and other evidence of carelessness in making up the duplicate was uncovered.

Indications are that the collection of taxes will be tied up for several weeks.

CONGRESS FACES LONGEST SESSION

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 1.—Congress today settled down to the second stage of what promises to be the longest continuous session in its history. The regular session following without a break upon the heels of the long extra session that has run since April 7th, brought to the tired lawmakers today many new problems and the prospect of steady work for many months.

There was but little formality about the ushering in of the new Congress by noon. Its advent was signalled by the fall of the gavel in each house, and by the announcement of the presiding officer that the Second Session of the Sixty-third Congress had been opened.

President Wilson will read his first general message at a joint session of the two Houses at 1 o'clock tomorrow; and it is expected he will touch upon many of the problems to be taken up at the new session.

STUDENTS BURN HISTORIES.

Indignant Georgians Destroy Copies as Band Plays "Dixie."

Waleska, Ga.—With the band playing "Dixie" the students of Reed and college, numbering nearly 400, gathered on the campus and made a bonfire of every copy of a history of the United States which had been prescribed in the curriculum. The book was prepared by a northern historian, and the students allege that the writer is unfair to the south and unduly partial to the north, especially in dealing with the civil war.

In the history Harriet Beecher Stowe is praised and Jefferson Davis is declared to have been a man of small mental caliber and also a traitor. The character of some of the leading southern generals also is attacked. It is alleged that there are even insinuations against General Robert E. Lee.

Reinhardt college is under the auspices of the Southern Methodist church. It is coeducational and is the largest educational institution in north Georgia.

IDENTIFIES CRIMINALS BY FINGER PRINTS

Inspector Faurot Perfects Great Weapon For Detectives.

New York.—Under the direction of Inspector Joseph A. Faurot, chief of New York city's detective bureau, the finger print system of identifying criminals has been almost perfected, and in this manner identification of criminals becomes a simple matter when they have "records"—that is, when they have been in the toils on previous occasions.

Finger prints are divided into four classes, known as "loops," "arches," "swells" and "composites." It takes an expert but an instant to classify the prints. These are all kept on file at police headquarters in large cities, and immediately after some crime is committed the detectives try to obtain the finger prints of the criminal. These are taken to the headquarters for comparison. Along with the prints there are kept descriptions of the criminals and in many instances photographs. Thus, once the print is obtained, identification becomes a simple matter if the record is on file.

To bring out the prints and make the lines clear certain chemicals are used. The faintest marks can be made to show clearly upon any object.

This system was inaugurated by Inspector Faurot, and he has developed it so that it is now considered one of the best weapons in the hands of the detectives.

MODERN RIP AWAKES FROM 9 YEARS' SLEEP

Like the Van Winkle of Irving, He Finds Many Changes.

Tarrytown, N. Y.—A Hving Rip Van Winkle, awakening from nine years of oblivion to find old friends dead and his children grown to manhood, walks, bewildered, in the streets of his home town, in that very Sleepy Hollow country of which Irving, author of Rip, wrote many tales.

He is Hyman Levy, long a leading merchant in Tarrytown before the "sleep" of years began. It was a mental cloud that shrouded him and made him almost as one dead to his friends.

Now, with tottering step, but clear seeing eyes, he has come slowly back from the mysterious wilderness of lost memory.

He sees new faces that are somehow old—the faces of the children who are men and women now. He seeks the haunts of former friends to find them held by strangers. Many that he knew are now but names upon the grave-stones in Sleepy Hollow cemetery.

But Levy's is not a mournful awakening. There are scores of his old cronies alive and rejoicing in his recovery. He remembers them all. He remembers everything that happened up to nine years ago. These nine years are an utter blank.

At the height of his business career he worried so much over a scratch on his leg which was infected that he became ill. He recovered physically, but made himself a hermit in his home. When he went out, at long intervals, he passed his friends without recognition.

Dr. William Bayard Hale Found His Task In Mexico Difficult

DR. WILLIAM BAYARD HALE, who was sent to Mexico as the accredited personal representative of President Wilson, met with great difficulties in dealing with the leaders of both factions in the much disturbed republic. Inasmuch as Dr. Hale's standing was not official, it was thought he would be able to negotiate for peace informally and keep the president better advised as to the exact state of affairs. He and John Lind, the official representative of the president, worked together with varying results. Their task was not easy, but they did their best to eliminate Huerta in accordance with the stand of the president.

GOV'T ARMOR PLATE FACTORY

Washington, Dec. 1.—Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, has made public his first annual report, one of the chief features of which is the announcement of his "building program" for the navy and his recommendation of the authorization by the present congress of the construction of two dreadnoughts, eight destroyers and three submarines. He admits that it will be observed that this is not a large program, but says that "it is a progressive one" and meets the demands to go forward in the continuation of "an adequate and well-proportioned navy."

As to the reduction in armament, the report says: "I trust that this country will take the initiative and that steps will be taken by a conference of all the powers to discuss reduction of the heavy cost of the army and navy."

Secretary Daniels says that "the time has come when the department should be freed from excessive prices charged by private manufacturers of armor plate, guns and gun forgings, powder, torpedoes and other supplies and munitions," and recommends that appropriations be made for a government armor plate factory and an increase in the gun factory, the powder factory and the torpedo works. Mr. Daniels expresses the belief that the government can make armor plate much cheaper than it can buy it.

DANCING TANGO. LOSES EYE.

Man Has Sight Destroyed by Quill in Hat of His Partner.

Asheville, N. C.—For the pleasure of dancing the tango Brent Latimer of Greenville, S. C., paid the price of one eye, the sight being destroyed by a quill in the hat of the young woman with whom he was dancing.

In making a turn the quill swept in behind his glasses, cutting the ball of the eye. Physicians announced that the sight of his right eye is destroyed.

New Orleans.—Only a "kid" and seven feet one and a quarter inches tall is J. Willis Kenelly. And he's still growing.

Mr. Kenelly, who is barely twenty years old, comes from Columbia, Marion county, Miss. When he went to Mississippi A. and M. college at the beginning of the year's term they barred him from football practice because the team quit the field in a body when he came out for "scrimmage work."

"Why, if a man tackles him he will fall halfway to the goal," argued the team. The coach, not wishing to take any undue advantage of opponents like that, decided that Kenelly could not play.

So when he left to go home again because they barred him from playing he took a day coach and sat up all night.

"What's the use of paying for a sleeper when they don't make the berths long enough for me to get into?" he said. He is having trouble obtaining work too. "My height is against me," he said.

Whenever Kenelly goes into a tailor shop in Columbia they get down the longest piece of cloth and start unwinding it.

"Yes, I was about the average size until I was seventeen years old, and then I got a good start and kept on growing."

Barney Lewis, who, it is alleged, robbed a Northeastern train about a year ago, came from the same county as Kenelly. "He isn't a small man either," said the giant. "I tell you they don't grow small in that county."

We hope that Brazilian dance, the Maxixe, isn't as hard to dance as it is to pronounce.

MAYOR ASSUMES CHARGE OF POLICE

By Associated Press.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 1.—Mayor Wallace established headquarters at the police station today and said he would take personal charge of the police department until the strike of the Union teamsters and chauffeurs, which began at midnight last night, is settled.

He said he had 100 mounted police and 400 patrolmen and expected to be able to handle the situation without assistance from the state. In addition to extra squads of police, more than 250 citizens including some of the most prominent business men in Indianapolis were sworn in as special reserve police.

Disorder but no serious rioting resulted today among the striking teamsters and chauffeurs.

Many wagons on the streets were stopped. T. J. Ferrill, president of the Union, declared all would be stopped by night. Many arrests have been made, and the police used their clubs freely in keeping the crowd moving.

Four girls, garment workers, were included in the number of arrests. They surrounded a laundry wagon and stopped it until the police arrived. They were released on small bonds. All men arrested were held under $1000 bond.

COUPLE ON TRIAL ON MURDER CHARGE

By Associated Press.

Mayfield, Ky., December 1.—More than 2000 persons heard Miss May Copeland, the pretty joint-defendant in the Turk-Copeland murder trial, tell her story of how she killed Hugh Atchison, her brother-in-law, at midnight, July 24th.

She stated that she and her sweetheart, Turk, drove to the Atchison home in a buggy, and that Turk remained in the buggy while she went into the house to secure some clothes she had left there.

She said Atchison lay upon the bed and when she entered the house he arose with an oath and threatened her, mentioning an assault he made upon her a week before.

Atchison started toward her, she said, and she turned and fled, and as she ran she pulled a revolver from her belt and fired over her shoulder, the ball striking Atchison in the heart. She had been in possession of the revolver one week, she said, and had carried the weapon in her belt.

By Associated Press.

Mayfield, Ky., December 1.—The prosecution today started the presentation of evidence, accusing Miss May Copeland and her sweetheart, Lucian Turk, who are charged with the murder of Hugh Atchison, a wealthy farmer and brother-in-law.

Sam Ireland testified that a few weeks prior to the murder of Atchison, Turk said: "If Atchison keeps fooling with me, something is going to happen."

The defense claims Miss Copeland killed Atchison after he had mistreated her, while the prosecution insists that Turk fired the shot that ended the man's life.

PROGRAM FOR ADDING TO U. S. NAVY IS OUTLINED DID NOT FIND ANY FEDERALS

Secretary of the Navy Outlines Present Needs and Discusses "Naval Holiday"—Meeting of Representatives of Great Nations to be Called to Discuss Temporary Suspension of Battleship Building.

By Associated Press.

Washington, November 30.—Two dreadnaughts, eight destroyers and three submarines, is the yearly naval building program Secretary Daniels recommends in his first annual report to President Wilson. While such a program is somewhat less than recommended by the Navy General Board, principally because Mr. Daniels believes it is as heavy as the revenues of the government will permit, he believes it is a progressive one which will meet the demand to go forward in the continuation of an adequate and well proportioned navy.

Second only in interest to the Secretary's building program, is an endorsement of Winston Churchill's proposed "Naval Holiday" with a recommendation that the United States take the initiative and that President Wilson ask Congress to authorize him to invite all the powers to a conference to discuss the project.

Regarding his building program, Secretary Daniels says:

"The wise naval policy for the United States at this time is to find the golden mean. It can not wisely by itself reduce the construction of dreadnaughts or compete with other great powers in burdening the taxpayers to hasten the construction of a navy larger than our conditions demand. The estimates of the Navy Department show a decrease in the ordinary expenditures.

"We have now under construction six battleships of the largest and most approved type.

"With the authorization of two of the largest battleships ever constructed, before the close of the present administration, the United States will have enough ships to have always a creditable and capable fleet in both the Pacific and the Atlantic oceans. These, together with the smaller ships under construction, will make the American Navy one of strength and power ready for the protection of American shores and American interests. A steady building program of advancement from year to year will be necessary to give us an 'adequate navy,' the goal of American needs and desires.

"If the present Congress authorizes the two dreadnaughts, 8 destroyers, and 3 submarines recommended the country will have a 'well-proportioned' Navy, and future additions can be made year by year, to add to the effectiveness of the fleet or fleets. Those who bid us stand still will not approve this conservative program. Those who wish to hasten more rapidly in construction will not give it their approval. It has been recommended, after mature consideration, as a middle course of wisdom.

"It is a condition and not a theory that confronts us." The revenues of the country do not permit as large an expansion in rival building as the department might desire to enter upon at this time. In its recommendations it has kept in view the probable revenues and other demands and placed the new construction at the very lowest program that could meet the needs of the country.

In endorsing a naval holiday, the Secretary says:

"The growing cost of dreadnaughts, of powder, and of everything that makes an efficient Navy gives reason for pause. This heavy expense commands national and international consideration. The naval appropriation has doubled in 13 years and yet this country has not joined the expensive competition and race for over-large navies to the same extent as have some other great nations. Ten years ago our largest battleship cost $5,382,000. The next dreadnaught will cost $14,344,000. When is this accelerating expenditure to be reduced?

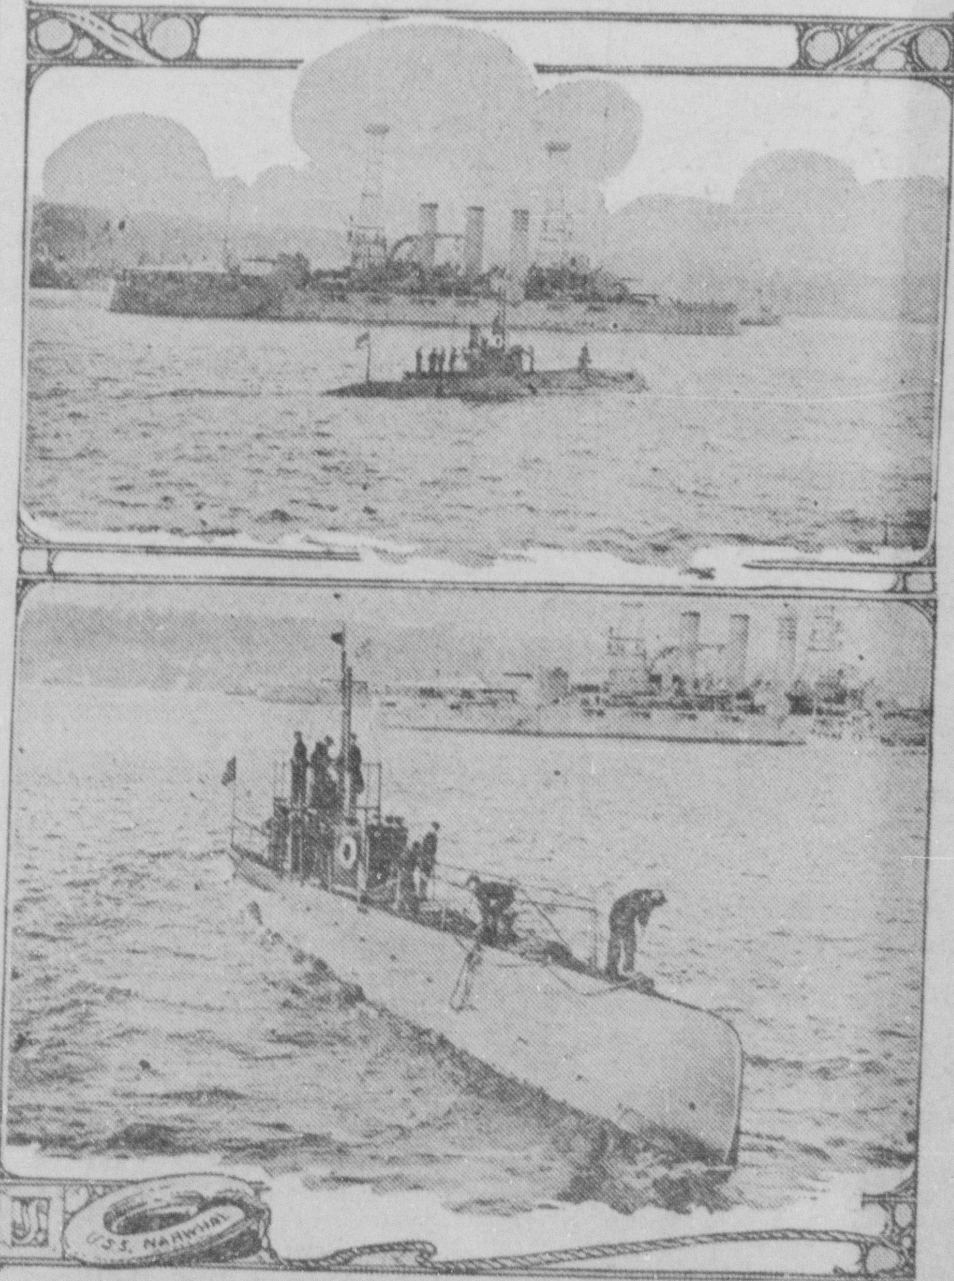

"Naval programs, announced by the nations already having the largest navies, and the entrance into the building of dreadnaughts by nations which have not hitherto burdened their people with the expense of large battleships, indicates that the end is not yet. No single nation, with large interests, can safely take a vacation in the building of battleships.

"The suggestion of a vacation for one year in battleship building has met with hearty approval and I venture the earnest hope that this will bear fruit in a well-considered plan by navy-building nations not to let the unnecessary competition go to further lengths. It is manifestly not possible for the proposed cessation in battleship construction to be declared at once. It is not a vacation we need, but a permanent policy to guard against extravagant and needless expansions. Any vacation proposed would, of course, take into account the conditions in Government navy yards and in private establishments where battleships are built under contract. The whole force is at present concentrated in building ships for which material has been purchased. Time should be given for shipbuilders to obtain commercial orders so as not to ask shipbuilders to incur loss.

"I venture to recommend that the war and navy officials and other representatives of all the nations be invited to hold a conference to discuss whether they can not agree upon a plan for lessening the cost of preparation for war. It is recognized that the desired end of competitive building, carried on under whip and spur, could not be effective without the agreement between great nations.

Uncle Sam's Submarine Flotilla To Guard Pacific End of Canal

Photos by American Press Association.

UNCLE SAM has selected a submarine flotilla as the initial standing naval defense of the Pacific entrance of the Panama canal. This flotilla consists of the C-1, C-2, C-3, C-4, and C-5. The boats were ordered to Colon, the Atlantic entrance of the canal, and will go through the "big ditch" as soon as it is navigable in Culebra cut. They will be permanently stationed at the Pacific entrance, of course being augmented by the Pacific fleet in case of sudden need. The Atlantic entrance of the canal will be guarded from Guantanamo, the naval base in Cuba.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 1.—Pancho

Villa's rebel army has not encountered any federal soldiers as far south as it has gone, and the vanguard reached Villa Ahumada, 83 miles south of Juarez. There the rebel army will wait for Villa to come and join it before moving farther. Villa loaded his artillery and another large lot of food supplies and said that he expected to move south tomorrow. He says 2,500 men with 16 rapid-fire guns have already gone. From Villa Ahumada he may march overland to Chihuahua, as he fears the federals have planted mines beneath the railroad. He will take all the artillery with him when he goes.

Manuel Escudero, minister of foreign relations in the Carranza cabinet, reached El Paso for a conference with Villa.

General Villa declared that the movement southward against Chihuahua is the real beginning of the march to Mexico City. "We have sufficient soldiers to drive every federal before us," he said, "and it will be no trouble to take the city of Chihuahua. We already hold Torreon, and the march south on Chihuahua will be easy. The Constitutionalists now hold every border port on the United States line except Eagle Pass and Laredo."

Villa has at least 5,000 rebel soldiers with him, at Juarez or moving south, while Generals Chao and Contreras, other rebel commanders, have at least 1,500 near Chihuahua. The federals have not more than 4,000 at Chihuahua.

The only doubt in the minds of Americans of the success of the Constitutionalists' cause is the attitude of General Villa. At present he is apparently fighting loyally for and with the Carranzans, but Villa is not a man who by nature is subservient to other men, and Americans who have watched his wonderful rise do not believe that Villa will be found taking second place to Carranza for any length of time.

DESTROY CITY

Mexico City, Dec. 1.—The federal gunboats Tampico and Guerrero bombarded the port of Altata, in the state of Sinaloa, again and destroyed the entire city, not a building being left intact. The rebel force, which had remained in the city throughout the heavy bombardment of the previous days, found the place untenable and fled for the interior. The gunboats thereupon left for Mazatlan, to join in a land and sea attack on that port, which is occupied by a large rebel force. Generals Rasgado and Garcia are to lead the attack from the land side.

Consular dispatches from Mazatlan say that the rebels are protecting property and preserving order, and that the few foreigners who remained there after the occupation of the city by the insurgents are in no danger.

CREDIT RUINED

Washington, Dec. 1.—The administration is convinced that the Mexican situation is slowly but surely adjusting itself. The practical destruction of the credit of the Huerta administration, coupled with the uninterrupted series of military successes by the Constitutional forces, is doing the work, according to officials. The promised crumbling of the Huerta dynasty, which the president has indicated repeatedly as the safe and certain cure for Mexican troubles, still goes on.

An election will be held at the same time in Sandy township, in which Mineral City is located.

In Washington the girls and boys will call on President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan.

ITALY INTERESTED IN CANAL OPENING

By Associated Press.

Rome, Dec. 1.—Italy is following with the greatest interest everything connected with the Panama Canal, which is considered a work worthy of the ancient Romans. The opening of the Canal will affect Italy, above all, in its principal exportation, namely, emigrants. In Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia, and Chili, new fields of activity will be found for them and, furthermore, the emigration to the western coast of Mexico, the United States and Canada will be increased. Already several Italian lines are preparing lines of navigation. Also, it is calculated that once the means of transportation is facilitated, Italian exports to South America will be at least doubled, while those for the western coast of Mexico, the United States and Canada will increase greatly.

When the Suez Canal was finished, Italian emigration was very limited and did not reach 100,000 a year, but between 1876 and 1886 the annual average had become 135,000. Between 1886 and 1900 that number was doubled, and from 1900 in has reached an average of 600,000, while in 1906, the highest year on record, was doubled, and from 1900 it has they may surpass in numbers those of 1906.

Poetry For Today

LOVE AND FAITH.
Lo, if a man magnanimous and tender,
Lo, if a woman, desperate and true,
Make their irrevocable sweet surrender,
Show to each other what the Lord can do—

Each, as I know, a helping and a healing,
Each to the other strangely a surprise,
Heart to heart its mystery revealing,
Soul to the soul in melancholy eyes

Where wilt thou find a riving or a rending
Able to sever them in twain again?
God hath begun and God's shall be the ending,
Safe in his bosom and aloof from men.

Hier thou mayst separate but shalt not sunder
Tho' thou distress her for a little while;
Rapt in a worship, ravished in a wonder,
Stayed on the steadfast promise of a smile.

VICTORIANO HUERTA, as provisional president of Mexico, resisted for months the attempt of President Wilson to eliminate him from the Mexican political situation. Huerta was once head of the federal troops under President Madero. When he saw that the tide of battle last February was going against Madero he quickly shifted his allegiance to General Felix Diaz, leader of the successful rebels who stormed the national palace in Mexico City. Mexicans seem to be noted for the manner in which they thus easily off with the old and on with the new. Madero was slain. For awhile Huerta and Diaz were bosom friends. Then Diaz was sent to Japan and ordered arrested when he returned. He fled to Cuba. Huerta found plenty of trouble on his hands from Carranza, Villa and the other rebel leaders. In addition, the United States refused to recognize him. The general election for a president and vice president was a farce, and Huerta proclaimed himself dictator until another election could be held.

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS

(John E. M. Kerr.)

The Oregon Public Ownership League has just organized and its principal object at present is to urge a law establishing a system of voting by mail. This objective won, municipal ownership of gas, lighting and telephone and street car lines, state insurance, an eight hour labor day, free water for every home up to 5000 gallons, a municipal free dental department, are some of the things for which the new organization will work.

Many postoffice names are queer enough to make one desire an explanation. A minister out in Kansas wrote to Washington, in behalf of the residents of a growing hamlet, asking for a postoffice. The request was favorably received, and he was asked to propose a name that would be acceptable. He replied that the people were not hard to please, so long as the name was peculiar. The post-office department took him at his word, and "Peculiar" is the name of the postoffice to this day.

Turks Island, located between Cuba and Haiti, is anticipating a record breaking business now that salt is admitted into the United States free of duty. Turks Island is one of the principal salt producers of the world. About 20 miles long and 5 miles wide the population numbers about 2500 and they produce more than 1,000,000 bushels of salt annually. Salt making is almost a monopoly on Turks Island for the business has been in the hands of one family for several generations. Salt is produced by pumping salt water into huge vats where the water is left to evaporate in the sun.

Lakewood, Ohio, a city of over 20,000 inhabitants has several unique distinctions. It has no place on any map; it does not contain a United States postoffice, and although located on several great trunk lines, has no railroad station. The population is rapidly increasing and the city has recently adopted a charter which embodies many of the latest framed features for municipal administration. This city is situated on the western boundary of Cleveland, on Lake Erie, and to a stranger passing from one to the other, there is nothing indicative of two distinct and separate municipalities.

A feature of the beautiful city park, Denver, Colorado, is the raising of native wild ducks. On an island in one of the lakes in the park at least 1000 wild ducks of various species are raised every year and allowed the freedom of the park. Each Thanksgiving two ducks are given to each park employee and whatever surplus remains is turned over to provide dinners for the poor of the city. Denver's parks have increased in value in 8 years over $3,000,000, and the city owns one acre for every 181 population.

DEWEY SAYS BUILD

Washington, Dec. 1.—Admiral Dewey's views of the naval program the United States should adopt, if it is to guard its international policies in the family of nations, are transmitted to President Wilson with the report of Secretary Daniels. The admiral's views, which embody the recommendations of the navy general board, are that the fleet should consist of 43 battleships of the line before 1920, if possible, and that the building program should begin this year with four dreadnoughts, 16 destroyers, eight submarines and minor craft.

Some men fail to meet their obligations because they are headed the other way.

Better Than Calomel

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets. These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy". Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O. adv

Official Permission For Rate Advance Would Restore Confidence In Roads

By HOWARD ELLIOTT, President of the New Haven Railroad

A SHORT ROUTE TO THE RESTORATION OF PUBLIC CONFIDENCE IN THE RAILROADS OF THE COUNTRY WOULD BE MADE BY A POSITIVE ANNOUNCEMENT BY FEDERAL AND STATE COMMISSIONS THAT RATES MIGHT BE ADVANCED.

To have a safe, adequate and smooth running transportation machine in New England is just as important to her future growth as to have adequate banking facilities, adequate commercial organizations and a sensible, sane and honest public opinion that will be reflected in a government that will not be swayed by the whims, prejudice or fads of the moment.

If we are to continue to have privately owned railroads supervised and regulated by governmental authority and if we are to avoid ownership by the government the OWNERS AND USERS OF THE RAILROADS MUST ALL WORK TOGETHER.

The policy of the government, national and state, during the last twenty-five years seems to have been to decide rate questions in the great majority of cases in such a way that RATES WERE RARELY ADVANCED AND GENERALLY WERE REDUCED and to introduce rules, regulations and methods that increased expenses. I want to make a plea that, coupled with restraint and control, there should be protection to the owners of the securities.

The commissions, both state and national, naturally feel the great pressure of the millions of users of the railroads for reduced rates and increased facilities. But, if the rates continue to decline or even remain on the present level and if expenses are increased by higher wages and cost of materials and by the introduction of different appliances and facilities more rapidly than the roads can obtain money, then there is but one result for some of the railroads of the United States, and that is BANKRUPTCY. This will naturally be preceded by a desperate effort on the part of the management to postpone that evil day as long as possible by STOPPING EVERY IMPROVEMENT AND BETTERMENT THAT CAN BE STOPPED.

GREENFIELD MAN ACCUSED OF EMBEZZLING $60,000

Homer Keefer, Trusted Employee of the Harps Manufacturing Concern, Alleged to Have Confessed Theft of Huge Sum, Transfers His Own Property Worth $35,000 and Leaves Yesterday for Parts Unknown—Theft Covered Space of Two Years, It Is Claimed.

A big sensation was sprung in Greenfield Sunday when it became known that Homer Keefer, aged 35 years, head bookkeeper and financial man for the J. A. Harps Manufacturing Company, was accused of the theft of amounts said to total $60,000, and that he had left Greenfield for parts unknown. The alleged embezzler is well known in this city where he had many friends.

Keefer, it is claimed, left Greenfield on the early morning train Sunday, and his whereabouts is unknown even to his wife, according to reports sent out from Greenfield.

The following story of the trouble has been sent out of Greenfield:

"Following Keefer's disappearance, it became known that a discrepancy amounting to almost $60,000 had been found yesterday in his accounts. A shortage was admitted by J. A. Harps, president of the company, but further than this, he would not discuss the case, saying he was not ready to make a public statement.

"When the alleged shortage was found, it is said that Mr. Keefer immediately made a confession and arranged to transfer his entire property, valued at approximately $35,000, to Mr. Harps to cover his peculations. It is also said that he then was given $75 with which to leave this city.

"Mrs. Keefer today declared that she did not know where her husband had gone. She will live with her mother, it is said.

"Business associates of Mr. Keefer were astounded at the report of the confession, as he had been a church worker and trusted employee of his firm for years. He conducted all the financial transactions for the company. Unfortunate speculation is said to have been the cause of the embezzlement, which, it is thought, extended over a period of two years.

"Mr. Keefer recently was acquitted of charges of using the mails to defraud in cases brought at Lynchburg, Va., against officials of the Harps-Sprengle Piano Company, of which he was secretary. Mr. Harps, who is also president of the People's National Bank and has large land holdings in South Carolina, may not prosecute the present case, it is reported."

Splendid music was a feature of the evening. The I. O. O. F. quartet, Dr. L. P. Howell, Messrs. Hicks, Burch and Ireland sang quartets and Dr. Howell, the solo, "O Perfect Day" very beautifully.

VISIT TOYLAND

LOCAL "Y" TEAM WHIPS FRANKFORT

In a fast and furious game, played in the presence of a fair-sized crowd at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday night, the Y. M. C. A. team defeated the visitors, piling up a score of 33 to 10 against them.

Both teams played with a vim that made the game one of deep interest and aroused considerable enthusiasm among the onlookers. One of the visitors became somewhat rough and started "slugging" but after he continued this for a short time he was ordered off the floor. However, he was returned when the captain of the visitors promised that no more of the "rough stuff" would be tolerated.

Both sides played a fast game but time after time the "Y" team scored with the visitors doing their utmost to prevent it.

Following are the points scored: Washington—Peterson, 3 fields; Sturgeon, 3 fields; Smith, 3 fields; and 9 fouls; Kier, 1 field; Baughn, 1 field.

Frankfort—McNeil, 1 field and 2 fouls; Trowell, 2 fields and 2 fouls. Washington's line-up was: Phillips-Dresback, L. G.; Peterson, R. G.; Sturgeon, C.; Smith, L. F.; Kier-Baughn, R. F.

Another fast game will probably be played Saturday night of this week and within the next few weeks Frankfort will again play here—if she wants to.

BADLY BURNED BY GASOLINE

Late Saturday night while preparing to close the Glebelhouse pool room and restaurant, Louie Gross was very painfully burned about the face and neck when gasoline from a leaking can ignited and blazed upward while he was bending over.

His face and neck were very painfully scorched and his eyebrows and hair were singed. The burns were not deep but exceedingly painful, and a physician was called to dress the wounds.

The exploding gasoline nearly reached his eyes before he could close them, and if it had the sight would probably have been destroyed or greatly impaired.

A resident of the Chaffin school house neighborhood, on the Jamestown pike, was at the sheriff's office Monday morning and stated that word had been received from Homer Recob, who is now on the U. S. battleship Franklin, stating that he would "get even" with certain ones in the above neighborhood for having "informed" on him.

The young man, who is still under indictment here for passing a forged check at the Washington Savings bank, claims that he will be discharged from the naval service on December 12th, and expects to return here.

As a result of his threats several of those acquainted with him are expecting trouble with him if he returns.

ANOTHER WIFE WANTS DIVORCE

Gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty are charges made against Ora Cartwright of this city, by his wife, Anna Cartwright, who, through Attorneys Rankin and Rankin, filed suit for divorce in the Probate court Saturday afternoon.

The couple were married in this city in January, 1904, and have two small children.

In her petition Mrs. Cartwright charges her husband with threatening to kill her with an axe and also with a butcher knife. She also charges him refusing her medical aid when ill. She asks divorce, alimony and other relief.

Some people would rather go broke than not go at all.

In Social Circles

MISS FLORENCE USTICK, SOCIETY EDITOR

A romance, which began at St. Augustine, Florida, and which had the next scenes laid near Chillicothe, was happily ended at Celina in the good old fashioned way by a marriage of extreme interest and beauty, solemnized Tuesday at the G. W. Struckman residence, east Livingston street.

The hero and heroine of the romance were Miss Margaret Blosser, Chillicothe, and Rolla W. Marchant, Washington C. H. The ceremony which united the happy lovers was read at 10:30, Tuesday morning by Dr. W. W. Lance and was witnessed by the bride's immediate family and the groom's best friend.

The bride was most becomingly gown in an elegantly tailored blue tulle with crepe due chine bodice and hat ensuit. The ring ceremony was solemnized under the palms in the big living room, the family group of handsomely gowned and happy women making a most effective setting for the pretty scene.

Directly after the bridal benediction, the wedding breakfast was served in the dining room, the wedding colors, pink and white predominating in the huge basket of carnations, in the place cards and dainty favors, pink baskets with hearts at every place. The feast was in five courses, the cake, a big wedding bell, and the fees also in wedding bells.

After the breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Marchant left for Boston and New York and on their return, they will spend the winter at the home of the groom's parents near Washington C. H., during their absence in Cuba.

Celina, as well as Chillicothe and Washington C. H., was interested in the event, because the bride has spent much of her time here at the home of her sister, Mrs. Struckman and she has been very popular with a circle of intimate friends. The groom as does his bride enjoys both wealth and social prominence and their union promises one of great good fortune and happiness.—Celina Daily Standard.

The handsome Haines' home, on the creek road, was gaily enfeete Saturday night, when Mr. and Mrs. Haines entertained eighteen young people in honor of the birthday of their charming daughter, Miss Ivah.

The Haines hospitality is proverbial and the most cordial of welcomes and most delightful entertainment was given the merry party of young people, who drove out as a surprise to Miss Ivah.

The boys sprung an added surprise by taking out a stringed orchestra which accompanied them for a beautiful serenade, as a preliminary to the evening's pleasure. They were all in comical make-ups which added no little to the fun.

An elaborate two-course supper was served, carnations and greenery used in decoration.

Participating in the affair were Miss Helen Kale, of Lima; Miss Charlotte Davenport, of Dayton; Miss Clara Barr, of Greenfield; Miss Hilda Kyle, Louise and Mary Weaver, Alice Loofbourrow, Katharyn Mark, Urcel Porter, Mr. McNeil, of Lorain, Messrs. EXTENSION SCHOOL CLOSES AND WAS SPLENDID SUCCESS

The Wayne Township Agricultural Extension School, held at Good Hope last week, closed Friday afternoon, and was a pronounced success, both in its splendid sessions and the interest aroused in the agricultural and home making courses. It was also a big success financially.

The feature of the week was the Thanksgiving dinner of Thursday, served by the Ladies Aid Society. The instructors, Misses Okey and Scott, assisted in the preparation of the three course dinner which vied with any Thanksgiving feast in the land. 160 were served.

Friday witnessed the banner attendance. Profs. Palmer and Hendricks judged cattle and horses, and of the home, dinner menus, how to The women held splendid sessions

Friday, in the morning hearing the fine art of "batters," in cakes and other delicacies. In the afternoon Misses Okey and Scott gave valuable information on "Household Decorations," the art of tasteful adornment of the home, dinner menus, how to serve, etc.

The officers who were so largely responsible for the success of the school were Pres. Orris Hegler; Secy. Jess Blackmore; Executive Committee, Chas. Groves, Ralph Braden, Harve Smalley; Home-Maker's Department, Pres. Mrs. S. E. Boggs; Executive Committee, Mrs. Almer Hegler, Mrs. Jess Blackmore, Mrs. Geo. Lough.

An independent Institute and corn show will be held at Good Hope in January.

REVISED OWEN BILL IN SENATE

Washington, Dec. 1.—A revised edition of the Owen currency bill bearing the stamp of approval of the senate Democratic caucus was submitted to the senate today. The Democratic leaders worked all of Sunday. The bill now provides that after the expenses of conducting the regional associations has been met and 6 per cent dividends paid to the shareholders, that a surplus of 40 per cent of the capital stock of the regional reserve associations shall be accumulated, following which any surplus profits are to be divided into two equal parts, one to go to the government as a franchise tax and the other to go into a fund to guarantee depositors in member banks that make up the regional reserve association. The number of members of the federal reserve board was fixed at seven. The number of regional banks will be left to the discretion of the federal reserve board, which may establish any number from eight to twelve.

Probably the most important work of the caucus was the adoption of an entirely new refunding plan to retire the 2 per cent bonds now held mostly as a basis for national bank notes. Secretary McAdoo offered some suggestions to the committee, which were adopted with slight modifications.

BUCKEYE SPECIAL ON THE PENNSY

Tonight between six and seven o'clock the Buckeye Corn Boys' Special over the Pennsylvania will pass through this city. The train, which is made up of the best coaches on the road, leaves Cincinnati at 5:00 o'clock and will stop here to pick up those who go from this county.

In connection with the final arrangements for the trip, the following notes will be of interest:

Reservation records show that the corn boys are good losers. To date more reservations have been recorded by the Treasurer for the boys who failed to win a free trip than for the more fortunate boys. This speaks well for the stuff of which our farm boys are made. A surprisingly large percent of adults are making reservations.

The Agricultural Commission has appealed to the Adjutant General of the Ohio National Guard to detail the service of a competent physician for each of the Buckeye Corn Special trains. Two O. N. G. physicians accompanied last year's party.

Arrangements have been consummated by the forwarding of $1200.00 on account by T. P. Riddle of Lima, the treasurer, for the reservation of the entire capacity of the Adelphi Theatre.

WANTS NEGROES TO GO BACK TO AFRICA

Guthrie, Okla., Dec. 1.—Negroes of Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri in particular are making great preparations to receive Chief Albert Sam of the Akim tribe, Ashantee, West Africa, who is coming to Boley, Okla., a strictly negro town in the Creek Indian country, with an invitation from the chiefs of all the tribes in Ashantee for the negroes of America to locate in that country, cultivate farms and build cities. Chief Sam came in answer to queries sent to him several months ago by negroes of Oklahoma who have been contemplating removal to Africa.

GUARDING EVELYN

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 1.—The police department was requisitioned to detail a guard outside the house of the mother of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, in Squirrel Mill, to guard against expected annoyance or disorder. The manager of the Alvin theater fears that because of feeling in certain circles in this city against the appearance here of the actress, who was the wife of Harry Thaw, she may have some unpleasant experiences. The use of the Thaw name on the billboards stirred up disapproval. The disapproval, however is not being felt in the box office.

PRAISES SUNLIGHT

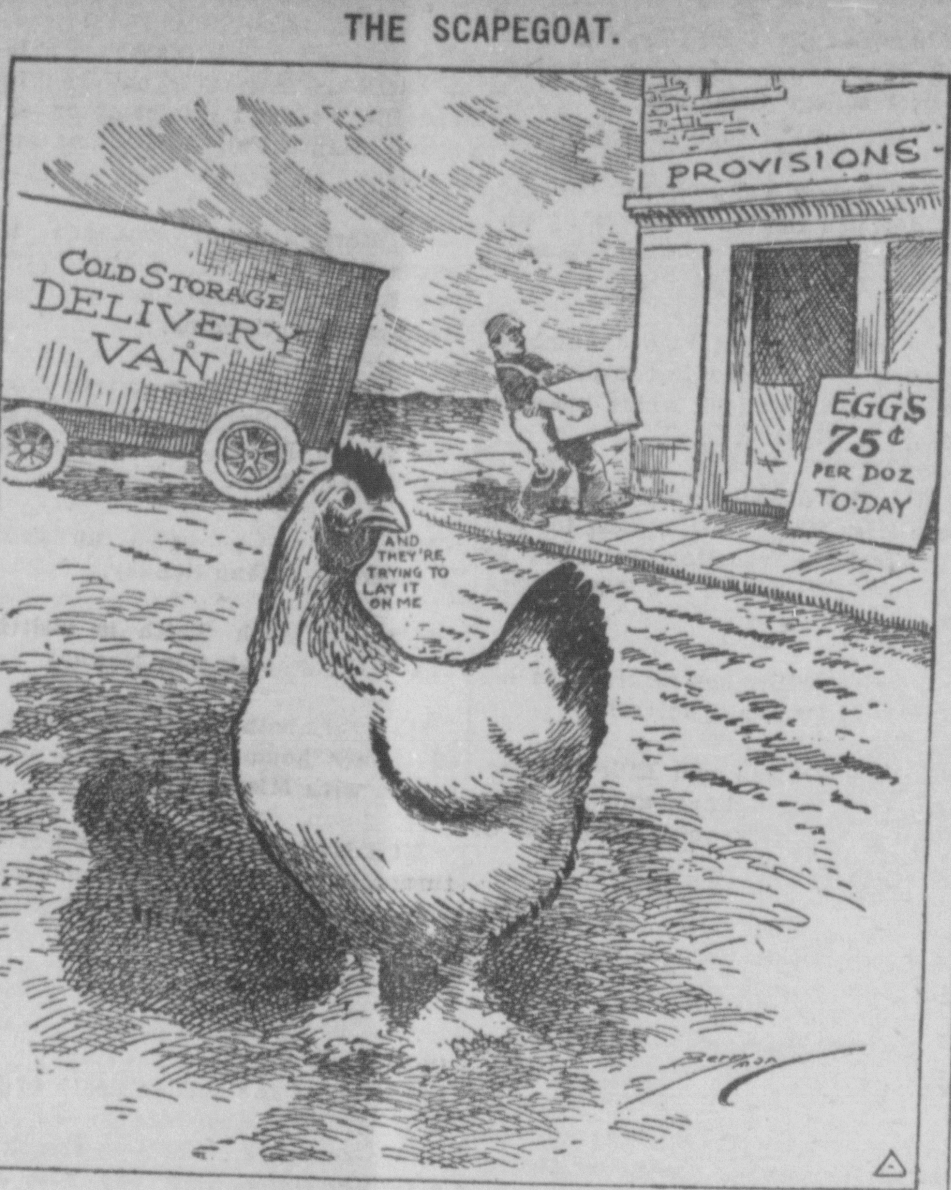

Cleveland, O., Dec. 1.—When scientists have discovered a process that will govern an equal distribution of sunlight, John D. Rockefeller thinks people will lead better lives. Mr. Rockefeller attended services at Euclid Baptist church, delaying departure in his motorcar to bask in the sunlight. "If scientists could solve the problem of equal distribution of sunlight it would raise the moral standard of men," he said. "Dull days breed unhappiness. Plenty of sunshine induces more persons to go to church and aids in making a contented community."

FOE OF AMERICANS WHO CONTROLS HUERTA'S FATE.

Gen. BLANQUET

Mexico City, December 1.—General Blanquet holds President Huerta's fate in his own hands. He is minister of war and commander of the army, and the Mexican soldiers are friendly to him. Blanquet is said to have forced the resignation of Aldape, the minister of the interior. Blanquet is a warm opponent of the United States and believes that Americans should keep their hands off the Mexican imbroglio.

BUSY SESSION OPENS TODAY

Washington, Dec. 1.—Democratic leaders are in a serious frame of mind over the work of the regular session of the Sixty-third congress, which was called to order at noon today. They have entered upon a session in which party policy on many important questions will be fully developed for scrutiny by the people at the polls in the congressional elections of 1914. It would be a serious blow to the purposes of President Wilson to lose control of the lower branch of congress midway in his administration.

The Democratic party already has revised the tariff and it is now overhauling the banking and currency laws. In the near future it will disclose its intentions relative to the corporations, conservation and other questions that are regarded as of importance economically as well as politically. The leaders realize that if the party is to retain the ground that it gained in the elections of 1912 it must proceed with caution in the consideration of the rather ambitious legislative program that is rapidly framing. In next year's elections the administration will be judged by the new tariff and banking laws and such other legislation as may be enacted during the session.

The Democratic house "insurgents" made their fight on the tariff within the party caucus and then bowed to the will of the majority. The administration faced a revolt in the senate on banking and currency, with the result that one Democratic leader joined Republicans in presenting a bill as a substitute for the measure approved by the administration. The Republican and Progressive leaders are making ready for a lively session.

Conservation was the cause of much trouble to the Taft administration. Complaint has come from the south and other sections that the proposal made by Gifford Pinchot and his followers that power sites in navigable streams shall be taxed has halted progress in many states.

How to Keep Active

When Old Age Overtakes Us.

Mrs. John Widmayer of Jackson, Mich., says: "Although 69 years of age, and naturally because of my advanced age, in an enfeebled condition, I can truthfully say that Vinol has done wonders to keep me as active as I am. It is the best medicine to create strength that I ever saw. This spring I was very much run down and worn out but I took Vinol and soon felt stronger and able to work about the house. I can recommend Vinol as a very invigorating tonic."

Should the system get run down—digestive organs weak—the blood thin, and sluggish—take Vinol, which is a delicious combination of the medicinal—body-building properties of cod's livers, with the useless grease eliminated and tonic iron added. We regard Vinol as one of the greatest body-builders and strength creators in the world for aged people.

We wish every feeble old person in this vicinity would try Vinol on our agreement to return their money if it fails to give satisfaction. Blackmer & Tanquary.

P. S. If you have any skin trouble try Saxo Salve. We guarantee it. Adv.

Strong influences in the party are opposed to taxing water powers on the ground that additional burden will be laid on the consumers, and they will oppose the Pinchot policy accordingly.

The interest usually surrounding the opening of a new session of congress was absent from the events of today. While the first session of the Sixty-third congress ended at noon, and the second session was ushered in by formal proclamation of the vice president and the speaker of the house, the status of legislation was little different from what it was when senate and house adjourned Saturday afternoon.

President Wilson will appear before the two houses at 1 o'clock tomorrow to read his annual message at a joint session in the house chamber.

APPLE CULTIVATION

Columbus, O., Dec. 1.—Apple cultivation in Ohio is to be given a big boost. Plans for this are now being worked out by the state agricultural commission. A proposal to establish a bureau of horticulture is regarded with considerable favor by the commission. Such a bureau would not only be helpful to the apple industry, but also to the production of all other fruits indigenous to Ohio. Those interested in horticulture complain that the state has been neglectful of this part of the state's resources.

CLAIMS WILL FREE BECKER FOR $10,000

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 1.—The news from Paris that Sam Schepps, the most important witness in the trial of Lieutenant Charles Becker for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, is willing to make an affidavit which he says will free Becker, will have no effect on the hearing on Becker's appeal. Schepps, it is learned, wants $10,000 for the affidavit.

POLICEMAN ASSAULTED

Cleveland, O., Dec. 1.—With his wife fighting by his side at their own doorway, Policeman Albert Miller, while off duty, was attacked by a crowd of young men and so badly injured that he will probably die. He is in a hospital with a broken skull. Miller was called by a neighbor to stop the crowd from taking a freezer of ice cream from the back porch. When he returned home he was attacked.

GUARDING AGAINST CROUP.

The best safeguard against croup is a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound in the house. P. H. Glenn, Middleton, Ga., writes: "My children are very susceptible to croup, easily catch cold. I give them Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and in every instance they get prompt relief and are soon cured. We keep it at home and prevent croup." Blackmer & Tanquary. adv

FAVOR AMENDMENT TO CONSTITUTION

Washington, Dec. 1.—Suffragists from every quarter of the United States, to the number of more than 1,000, are assembled here for the week of convention of the National Woman Suffrage association, which began its sessions today. In the course of the proceedings there undoubtedly will be passed a resolution supporting the constitutional amendment now pending in the senate providing for an amendment to the federal constitution by which the right to the vote will be extended to women. The delegates point with pride to the fact that "votes for women," the extension of unlimited suffrage to all women, is now a fact in 11 of the 48 states. The delegates are also hopeful that in the president's message to congress some mention of the subject of woman suffrage will appear.

TRAFFIC TIED UP AT INDIANAPOLIS

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 1.—Union teamsters inaugurated a strike here today. Sunday the union voted unanimously to go out to enforce demands. The union, which includes the commercial chauffeurs, is one of the strongest in the city and has between 1,500 and 2,000 members. A special dispensation for milk wagons, driven by union teamsters, was made at the meeting on the suggestion of Thomas J. Farrell, general organizer of the international brotherhood of teamsters, chauffeurs, stablemen and helpers of America. Drivers of hearses are exempt from the strike order. Farrell also announced there would be no interference with the mail or other government wagons or automobiles, or with the wagons or machines of the express companies. He said arrangements would be made for delivering supplies to hospitals, so that there would be no added suffering among the sick. Several employers have signed the agreement, but their men joined the strike to make it more effective. Employers of teamsters who are members of the National Vehicle Owners' Protective association have practically decided to abandon all attempts to move their wagons. They say they will send their horses to the country and await developments. The demands of the teamsters include a wage scale and changes of working conditions, which vary according to the kind of work done. The wage scale for drivers of horse wagons ranges from $13 to $18 a week and for chauffeurs from $14 to $18 a week. The hours of labor range from eight to 12 hours a day. The union did not demand a closed shop, but that there should be no discrimination against union men. The police department, reorganized under the direction of Captain George V. Coffin, acting superintendent of police, has been making preparation for a week to handle the strike. About 250 specials have been sworn in.

SELLS RED SOX

New York, Dec. 1.—A big deal, involving the sale of half the stock in the Boston Red Sox for more than $200,000, was clinched when Joseph Lannin, proprietor of the Garden City hotel and a Long Island real estate man, obtained the shares held by President James R. McAleer, Secretary Robert McRoy and Former Manager Jake Stahl. The formal transfer of the stock will be effected on Dec. 10 and new officers of the club will be elected. General Charles H. Taylor and his son, John I. Taylor, who own the other half of the club's stock, will remain in baseball.

UNITED STATES marines were long in readiness to land in Mexico from the several battleships which patrolled the eastern and western coasts of the country. This picture shows marines in formation on one of the warships in Vera Cruz harbor. It was believed that this port was one of the keystones to the situation, as far as invasion was concerned. Ships with marines ready were also off Tampico and Tuxpan. This branch of the naval service bears a high standing and has bravely fulfilled many important details in troublous times in the past.

Those Who Arrive.

A New York capitalist said at a dinner in Boston that neither the prudent man nor the daring man made a success of life.

"The prudent gets nowhere," he declared. "The daring goes to smash. It is those who mingle the two qualities, the daringly prudent, who arrive. In other words," concluded the capitalist, "the men who succeed are those who run risks at a very slow walk."—Washington Star.

TAX COLLECTION STOPPED BOOKS MUDDLED IN GREENE

The Greene county commissioners made up by Auditor Dean, and soon found so many errors that he turned the duplicates back for correction, and several clerks are now engaged in straightening out the tangle.

Three townships checked up showed $43,000 worth of property in one township that had not been placed upon the duplicate; $34,700 in another township, and $37,170 in the third. One property was also listed twice and other evidence of carelessness in making up the duplicate was uncovered.

Indications are that the collection of taxes will be tied up for several weeks.

CONGRESS FACES LONGEST SESSION

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 1.—Congress today settled down to the second stage of what promises to be the longest continuous session in its history. The regular session following without a break upon the heels of the long extra session that has run since April 7th, brought to the tired lawmakers today many new problems and the prospect of steady work for many months.

There was but little formality about the ushering in of the new Congress by noon. Its advent was signalled by the fall of the gavel in each house, and by the announcement of the presiding officer that the Second Session of the Sixty-third Congress had been opened.

President Wilson will read his first general message at a joint session of the two Houses at 1 o'clock tomorrow; and it is expected he will touch upon many of the problems to be taken up at the new session.

STUDENTS BURN HISTORIES.

Indignant Georgians Destroy Copies as Band Plays "Dixie."

Waleska, Ga.—With the band playing "Dixie" the students of Reid college, numbering nearly 400, gathered on the campus and made a bonfire of every copy of a history of the United States which had been prescribed in the curriculum. The book was prepared by a northern historian, and the students allege that the writer is unfair to the south and unduly partial to the north, especially in dealing with the civil war.

In the history Harriet Beecher Stowe is praised and Jefferson Davis is declared to have been a man of small mental caliber and also a traitor. The character of some of the leading southern generals also is attacked. It is alleged that there are even insinuations against General Robert E. Lee.

Reinhardt college is under the auspices of the Southern Methodist church. It is coeducational and is the largest educational institution in north Georgia.

IDENTIFIES CRIMINALS BY FINGER PRINTS

Inspector Faurot Perfects Great Weapon For Detectives.

New York.—Under the direction of Inspector Joseph A. Faurot, chief of New York city's detective bureau, the finger print system of identifying criminals has been almost perfected, and in this manner identification of criminals becomes a simple matter when they have "records"—that is, when they have been in the toils on previous occasions.

Finger prints are divided into four classes, known as "loops," "arches," "swells" and "composites." It takes an expert but an instant to classify the prints. These are all kept on file at police headquarters in large cities, and immediately after some crime is committed the detectives try to obtain the finger prints of the criminal. These are taken to the headquarters for comparison. Along with the prints there are kept descriptions of the criminals and in many instances photographs. Thus, once the print is obtained, identification becomes a simple matter if the record is on file.

To bring out the prints and make the lines clear certain chemicals are used. The faintest marks can be made to show clearly upon any object.

This system was inaugurated by Inspector Faurot, and he has developed it so that it is now considered one of the best weapons in the hands of the detectives.

MODERN RIP AWAKES FROM 9 YEARS' SLEEP

Like the Van Winkle of Irving, He Finds Many Changes.

Tarrytown, N. Y.—A living Rip Van Winkle, awakening from nine years of oblivion to find old friends dead and his children grown to manhood, walks, bewildered, in the streets of his home town, in that very Sleepy Hollow country of which Irving, author of Rip, wrote many tales.

He is Hyman Levy, long a leading merchant in Tarrytown before the "sleep" of years began. It was a mental cloud that shrouded him and made him almost as one dead to his friends.

Now, with tottering step, but clear seeing eyes, he has come slowly back from the mysterious wilderness of lost memory.

He sees new faces that are somehow old—the faces of the children who are men and women now. He seeks the haunts of former friends to find them held by strangers. Many that he knew are now but names upon the grave-stones in Sleepy Hollow cemetery.

But Levy's is not a mournful awakening. There are scores of his old cronies alive and rejoicing in his recovery. He remembers them all. He remembers everything that happened up to nine years ago. These nine years are an utter blank.

At the height of his business career he worried so much over a scratch on his leg which was infected that he became ill. He recovered physically, but made himself a hermit in his home. When he went out, at long intervals, he passed his friends without recognition.

DR. WILLIAM BAYARD HALE, who was sent to Mexico as the accredited personal representative of President Wilson, met with great difficulties in dealing with the leaders of both factions in the much disturbed republic. Inasmuch as Dr. Hale's standing was not official, it was thought he would be able to negotiate for peace informally and keep the president better advised as to the exact state of affairs. He and John Lind, the official representative of the president, worked together with varying results. Their task was not easy, but they did their best to eliminate Huerta in accordance with the stand of the president.

GOV'T ARMOR PLATE FACTORY

Washington, Dec. 1.—Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, has made public his first annual report, one of the chief features of which is the announcement of his "building program" for the navy and his recommendation of the authorization by the present congress of the construction of two dreadnoughts, eight destroyers and three submarines. He admits that it will be observed that this is not a large program, but says that "it is a progressive one" and meets the demands to go forward in the continuation of "an adequate and well-proportioned navy."

As to the reduction in armament, the report says: "I trust that this country will take the initiative and that steps will be taken by a conference of all the powers to discuss reduction of the heavy cost of the army and navy."

Secretary Daniels says that "the time has come when the department should be freed from excessive prices charged by private manufacturers of armor plate, guns and gun forgings, powder, torpedoes and other supplies and munitions," and recommends that appropriations be made for a government armor plate factory and an increase in the gun factory, the powder factory and the torpedo works. Mr. Daniels expresses the belief that the government can make armor plate much cheaper than it can buy it.

DANCING TANGO, LOSES EYE.

Man Has Sight Destroyed by Quill In Hat of His Partner.

Asheville, N. C.—For the pleasure of dancing the tango Brent Latimer of Greenville, S. C., paid the price of one eye, the sight being destroyed by a quill in the hat of the young woman with whom he was dancing.

In making a turn the quill swept in behind his glasses, cutting the ball of the eye. Physicians announced that the sight of his right eye is destroyed.

New Orleans.—Only a "kid" and seven feet one and a quarter inches tall is J. Willis Kenelly. And he's still growing.

Mr. Kenelly, who is barely twenty years old, comes from Columbia, Marion county, Miss. When he went to Mississippi A. and M. college at the beginning of the year's term they barred him from football practice because the team quit the field in a body when he came out for "scrimmage work."

"Why, if a man tackles him he will fall halfway to the goal," argued the team. The coach, not wishing to take any undue advantage of opponents like that, decided that Kenelly could not play.

So when he left to go home again because they barred him from playing he took a day coach and sat up all night.

"What's the use of paying for a sleeper when they don't make the berths long enough for me to get into?" he said. He is having trouble obtaining work too. "My height is against me," he said.

Whenever Kenelly goes into a tailor shop in Columbia they get down the longest piece of cloth and start unwinding it.

"Yes, I was about the average size until I was seventeen years old, and then I got a good start and kept on growing."

Barney Lewis, who, it is alleged, robbed a Northeastern train about a year ago, came from the same county as Kenelly. "He isn't a small man either," said the giant. "I tell you they don't grow small in that county."

We hope that Brazilian dance, the Maxixe, isn't as hard to dance as it is to pronounce.
